$90 MILLION DEAL FOR CANADIAN WHEAT

OTTAWA (UPI)—Canada and Poland today signed a long-term wheat agreement providing for the sale of some 44 million bushels to the Communist nation over the next three years.

The deal, fifth major grain sale negotiated with the Communist bloc during recent months, will net Canada about $90 million.

The contract, providing for shipments to begin next spring, was signed today by Trade Minister Mitchell Sharp and Polish Foreign Trade Minister W. Trzampczynski.

IT'S A LABOR OF LOVE BUT OH, HOW THEY WORKED

By MONTE ROBERTS
It's always work to produce a daily newspaper, but there's extra labor in today's Times.

Exactly 13 Labor leaders lent a hand in bringing out this edition—13 Labor leaders who accepted our invitation to sit in as editors-for-day.

To a man—and one woman—the Times staffers pro-

tem found the day's work interesting, intriguing, and worthwhile.

Possible champion in the "intriguing" department was long-time Labor great Percy Rayment, who sat in as wire editor.

This is a chore involving appearing on the job at 6:30 a.m. and peering keen-eyed at reams of copy as it comes roaring off the teletype ma-

'CHALLENGE'
But it wasn't this split second influx of world and national news which intrigued Percy.

It was, as he put it, "The challenge of writing heads... the ingenuity of using words... why, already I'm thinking in terms of headlines." At which point, Percy interrupted himself to write a three-line head about the William the Conqueror castle recently unearthed in England.

"NEW SITE FOR JEWELS FOUND AT 1066 FORT."

(Showing the passion for facts owned by all good newspapermen, Percy checked the Victoria directory, found there was no such address, and therefore re-wrote the head.)

Also unexpectedly faced with 2362, K-742 and even 360 2 BD, was Bob Milliken, who signed on for the day as movie expert, but was pulled into service as a headwriter when the pre-deadline pressure built up.

'EAST-WEST THAW ENDANGERED'

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI)—Britain warned today that Russia's blockade of access routes to Berlin threatens to wreck East-West reconciliation arising from the Moscow treaty on a partial nuclear test ban.

British Minister of State Peter Thomas said in the disarmament debate of the General Assembly's main political committee:

"If such incidents continue, we in the West may well be compelled to ask ourselves how real is the spirit of Moscow and how far it goes. Be that as it may, I feel sure that it is the united hope of all members of this committee that any misgivings on this score, which I have felt bound to express, will prove to be unfounded."

U.S. TROOPS STILL HELD UP

U.K., French Convoys Passed by Russians

Serious Matter —Rusk

WASHINGTON (AP)—State Secretary Rusk today described as "a very serious matter" the Russian blockade of a U.S. convoy on the road to Berlin.

Rusk made the comment to reporters after appearing before the Senate foreign relations committee.

President Kennedy was keeping in close touch with the situation, both by telephone and by direct briefings from McGeorge Bundy, his assistant for national security affairs.

Rusk, leaving the Senate committee briefing, said:

"Unless the situation has changed in the last hour, the other side is attempting unilaterally to change procedures that have long been in use.

"Of course that cannot be permitted. We look upon it as a very serious matter."

Rusk summoned Georgi M. Kornienko, Soviet charge d'affaires in Washington, Monday and demanded the convoy be released. Informants said Kornienko, who has charge of the Soviet embassy in the absence of Ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin, explained he had no word from his government on the incident.

BERLIN (AP)—The Soviet army let British and French military convoys leave West Berlin today on their way toward an American convoy that has been held on the West German border since Monday morning.

The British and French had 110 miles to go. This is the distance between West Berlin and West Germany along the East German autobahn.

Just as the Americans had done, both the British and French refused to dismount from their jeeps and trucks to be counted or to lower their tail gates so that Soviet officers could look inside.

There were no immediate explanations of why the Russians reacted differently towards the British and French.

A U.S. army spokesman said the morale of the troops "could not be higher" despite the heavy rain and biting frost.

It took the French more than half an hour to clear the Soviet checkpoint at nearby Babelsberg.

The British were at first refused permission to pass. A Soviet officer went away for new instructions. When he returned, he allowed the British to go on. They had been held for 30 minutes.

Canada Buys British Subs

OTTAWA (CP)—The government has decided to proceed with purchase of three conventional Oberon-class submarines from Britain, Defence Minister Hellyer announced today.

The purchase will run to approximately $33,000,000.

The submarine program was originally announced in April, 1962, by former Conservative defence minister Douglas Harkness. But no production-sharing arrangements could be worked out at that time with Britain.

Mr. Hellyer, appearing before the Commons defence committee, said Britain now has decided to share in development of an army reconnaissance drone by Canadair Limited, Montreal.

He also said Britain will make defence purchases in Canada but he did not specify them.

Mr. Hellyer confirmed that the government will not buy 55 additional CF-104 nuclear bombers, as requested by the RCAF.

However, 16 more CF-104 two-seaters have been ordered to check out the operational readiness of crews.

This brings the total CF-104 order to 238 planes, 38 of them for training purposes.

Mr. Hellyer also confirmed that no more Voodoo jet interceptors will be bought for air defence command. The previous government acquired 66 of them for home defence.

BASED AT HALIFAX

The three submarines, to be obtained in the 1965-68 period, will replace three Halifax-based submarines on loan from Britain.

The minister said nuclear warheads for the 28 Bomarc anti-aircraft missiles at North Bay, Ont., will be delivered this month and those for the 28 Bomarc at La Macaza, Que., in December.

The Genie nuclear rocket for the Voodoo would not be delivered until the latter half of 1964.

The decision not to acquire more Voodoes from the U.S. will mean abandonment of one of the six Voodoo bases, Mr. Hellyer indicated.

Diem Kin Rebuffed By U.S.

(Times News Service)

SAIGON—Ngo Dinh Can, brother of former president Ngo Dinh Diem and virtual dictator of the central Vietnamese provinces, today asked for asylum at the U.S. consulate at Hue. However, Can was turned over to the South Viet Nam revolutionary authorities.

High sources reported that Can arrived at the U.S. consulate in Hue, 400 miles to the north from Saigon, at about 10:30 p.m. Monday asking for refuge.

U.S. authorities there got in touch with officials of the four-day-old revolutionary government and notified them that Can was at the consulate.

Today, Can was flown in a U.S. military aircraft and turned over to government authorities at Saigon Airport.

U.S. officials were understood to have received assurances from revolutionary officials that Can "would not be lynched and would receive the due process of law."

Can's house has been surrounded by troops since Friday's military coup in Saigon that overthrew the Diem regime and resulted in the deaths of Diem and his powerful brother, Ngo Dinh Nhu.

LOCATE BODIES?

Unconfirmed reports circulated in Hue, capital of central Viet Nam, that 180 bodies had been found in a mass grave at Can's mansion there.

Responsible Vietnamese officials said rows of filthy dummies were found in an old French arsenal on property owned by Can just south of Hue. Mobs Monday sacked and destroyed a home Can was building there.

Buddhist leaders, students and others in Hue long have charged that Can ruled his bailiwick as a bloody tyrant.

Foreign observers believed Can probably would be tried by the new government and given either a death sentence or a long prison term.

BANKS

Freed on Bail In Conspiracy

MONTREAL (CP)—Harold Banks, president of the Seafarers' International Union of Canada (Ind.), was arraigned today on a charge of conspiracy to commit assault in the 1957 beating of Capt. Henry Francis Walsh.

Judge Emile Trottier fixed preliminary hearing for Nov. 12 and set bail at $2,000 cash or $4,000 property.

Defence Counsel Joseph Nuss told the court bail would be posted immediately.

Mr. Nuss said Mr. Banks gave himself up voluntarily to the RCMP earlier today, upon learning that a warrant existed for his arrest and had no thought of avoiding appearance in court.

The whole proceedings took about 20 minutes. Banks, wearing a hat and light grey trench coat, strode into the criminal courts building behind Mr. Nuss shortly before 3 p.m. and walked straight to the arraignment court.

He sat in the front row of the spectators' benches, beside an RCMP officer. Judge Trottier entered the courtroom five minutes later.

KNEW OF CHARGE

In making the request for bail, Mr. Nuss said the court "must take into account that there has been widespread information in the public media to the effect that a warrant existed, yet the accused did nothing that would lead the court to believe he was making any attempt to evade due process."

Mr. Nuss said Mr. Banks has been a resident of Montreal for the last 15 years, is employed continuously in Montreal and is the owner of an immovable property. "I should also point out the accused was convicted of an offence in the jurisdiction of California in 1929 but received a pardon from the governor of California in 1950. This offence may be considered, therefore, as not having happened."

Mr. Nuss said it should also be recalled that the present charge "dates back seven years."

The Crown, noting that Banks "submitted voluntarily" to the police, did not oppose the request for bail.

Meanwhile, Justice Minister Chevrier said in the Commons today Banks was arrested on a warrant the RCMP applied for on Oct. 23.

Mr. Chevrier said his recollection is that the warrants for arrest were not issued until after Mr. Banks was in Ottawa Oct. 24 to see the trustees appointed by the government the previous day to operate five maritime unions.

Asked to explain the delay, he said the first concern was to get the striking SIU men back at work. The next concern was to keep them at work and the ships moving with grain.

Mr. Chevrier said that rightly or wrongly he felt he should not attempt to interfere with the duties of the newly-established trio administering the federal trusteeship of five maritime unions including the SIU.

"I did not believe it would be good timing."

DENIES CHARGE

Mr. Chevrier denied an allegation of Eldon Wooliams (PC—Bow River) that the justice minister misled Parliament in various statements about the charges laid against Banks and others and the warrants under which searches were conducted in Montreal, Toronto and elsewhere by the RCMP.

Mr. Wooliams demanded to know why the arrest warrant was not served on Mr. Banks when the union president was in the capital. He said there was time to do so and "time is

MARTIN LASHES CRITIC

Doctor Called Irresponsible

Health Minister Eric Martin today accused Dr. R. E. Adams of Victoria of gross irresponsibility.

The medical director of St. Joseph's Hospital is also guilty of public mischief, Mr. Martin said.

He rejected Dr. Adams' charge that too many babies are dying in B.C. hospitals because of government "harassment" as completely invalid.

He also rejected the B.C. Hospital Association's plea for a continuing province-wide study of newborn babies.

Mr. Martin said the health department itself checks every hospital case and investigates any unusual circumstances.

Dr. Adams refused to name the hospital at which he said the baby death rate was particularly high and at which babies had died needlessly through lack of adequate staff.

'CAST A CLOUD'

"The refusal of Dr. Adams to substantiate the charges he made is an act of gross irresponsibility," Mr. Martin said.

"His statements have damaged the province's reputation and have cast a cloud over every hospital in the province."

"Imagine the anguish that must exist in the hearts of those parents who lost newborn infants during the past few years."

"To make such charges and then decline to substantiate them is public mischief."

Dr. Adams did not reply to Continued on Page 2

MINE RESCUE SLOWED

PEINE, Germany (UPI)—Efforts to drive steel reinforcing pipe into a rescue shaft toward 11 men trapped in a flooded iron mine were slowed again by an obstruction today.

Mine general manager Rudolph Stein said there was danger the roof of the 9x12 foot alcove in which the men have taken refuge might collapse under the tremendous pressure and vibration of the rescue drill making their chances of being saved only about 50-50 at this time.

Tranquilizers were sent down for two of the miners who were getting edgy, as operations to get them out lagged.

The drugs went down in a one-inch wide, capsule that moves like an elevator in the slim shaft that has been a lifeline to the men since they were found Sunday.

Spy Activity Speeded Up

TAIPEI (Reuters)—The Chinese Nationalist government said today infiltration of agents and guerrillas into Communist China is being intensified.

During the last year, the government said, air reconnaissance flights deep over the mainland have been increased and espionage operations stepped up.

Gas Threat Ends In Rotterdam

VLAARDINGEN, The Netherlands (UPI)—A giant cloud of poisonous gas from a burning chemical fertilizer plant was swept toward the North Sea today by strengthening winds, ending a six-hour threat to the 75,000 residents of this Rotterdam suburb.

TRACKER DOGS, ROADBLOCKS USED

Princess Loses Thousands in Jewels

LONDON (AP)—A brazen burglar broke into Princess Alexandra's palatial suburban home Monday night and escaped with jewels valued at thousands of pounds.

He was surprised in a second-storey dressing room and made a clean getaway.

Scotland Yard responded today by laying on a search rivaling those mounted for major crimes.

Thirty tracker dogs were brought in, roadblocks set up and squads of police assigned to comb the four-acre grounds of Thatched House Lodge in feet of old brickwork to a rear window, forced it open and went to work.

He scooped up all the jewelry from the dressing rooms and bedrooms on the second floor. Some of the loot was costume jewelry of small value. Some also was reported to be wedding presents—the princess was married in April.

Princess Alexandra was going through her remaining jewelry this morning to make an exact accounting of what was missing. It was believed to total a substantial amount.

The princess and her husband moved into Thatched House Lodge in June. They leased it from the Duchess of Sunderland and recently have been redecorating. Workmen were among those questioned by the police.

The princess, 35-year-old cousin of the Queen and one of the most popular members of the Royal Family, is not assigned a detective except for public functions. Friends said she had no special guard at her house.

The princess, who is pregnant, and her husband, financier Angus Ogilvy, were both home at the time.

JUMPED FENCE

The thief managed to make his way into Richmond Park, 1,000 acres of fenced royal land with gates that are locked at night. Then he jumped the wooden fence surrounding the princess' home, climbed up 10

Wage Hikes 'Needed' To Boost Productivity

A letter from Deputy Hospital Insurance Minister D. M. Cox asking for details of his charges, made at a hospital convention two weeks ago.

The hospital association replied, but it did not deal with the charges.

President H. E. Proctor instead asked for a comprehensive study of infant care.

Mr. Martin said he was "shocked" that the hospital association had not investigated Dr. Adams' charges itself.

He said his request for a survey indicated a lack of knowledge of what has already been done.

LONG STUDY

Mr. Martin said his department has been conducting a study into the cause of baby deaths for "several years."

It has supplied information to the medical profession about it, he said.

"If any hospital shows a sudden leap in deaths we would immediately question it," he added.

The government checking is done through close examination of every claim submitted by hospitals and doctors for hospital insurance, Mr. Martin said.

Records of the provincial and federal bureaus of statistics show B.C. has the lowest baby death rate in Canada, Mr. Martin said.

It has held this position substantially for the past 20 to 30 years.

CHARGES INVALID

The B.C. baby death rate in 1962 was 23 per 1,000 babies born.

The national average was 28 per 1,000. The U.S. average was 25.

"In the light of these facts and in view of the refusal of Dr. Adams and the executive of the BCHA to provide details, I can only consider the charges invalid," Mr. Martin said.

"I can assure the people of B.C. that we will continue to give infant mortality rates our full attention as we have done in the past."

Back Wages Payment Angers Longshoremen

MONTREAL (CP) — Montreal longshoremen want their back pay paid more quickly, and some of them hint at the possibility of another work stoppage to get it.

Leo Taylor, president of the 400-man checkers local of the International Longshoremen's Association (ILA) said 50 of his members have petitioned him for a special meeting next Monday to discuss the back pay question. Scheduling a special meeting on a working day means, in effect, not working.

Paul Asselin, president of the 2,200-member stevedores local, said his members are also complaining but haven't yet planned any moves.

WASHINGTON—Wage and salary increases are dangerously lagging behind the dynamic upsurge in worker productivity today, the AFL-CIO warns.

The labor organization's monthly magazine, the American Federationist, draws a parallel between the current situation and the "lopsided" income distribution of the late 1920s which many economists blame in large part for the great depression.

"Wages must increase more rapidly than they have in the past few years without any increase in the overall price level," the publication said.

Some labor leaders, notably United Auto Workers president Walter P. Reuther, have pointed out the alleged discrepancy in income distribution. But the Federationist article, entitled "Soaring Productivity: A Fair Share for Labor," is the first to lay down a hard official line on the subject.

As such, it may be regarded as a manifesto from which organized labor may take a more militant attitude in next year's negotiations with management. Many unions have heeded the Kennedy administration's appeal the past two years to hold demands down in the interest of making United States goods more competitive in price.

It also is labor's most comprehensive rebuttal to date to management's complaint of a "profits squeeze" brought on largely by rising labor costs.

By contrast, the AFL-CIO quotes fortune on the recent "unprecedented" rise in profit margins resulting from an increase in industrial prices and a decline in unit employment costs.

Labor costs per unit of output (as distinguished from hourly employment costs) have actually declined 3 per cent in manufacturing since 1958, the article points out.

It further states that output per man hour in the total private economy advanced 20.2 per cent between 1956 and 1962.

But the purchasing power (wages, salaries and fringe benefits adjusted for price changes) of all employees rose only 15.2 per cent. The rate of increased output per man hour is accelerating, according to the article. While productivity increased at an average annual rate of 2.4 per cent from 1909 through 1962 and 3 per cent since the Second World War, it has jumped an estimated 3.6 per cent yearly in the period 1960 to 1963.

But the AFL-CIO contends that employee compensation has not kept pace. "Obviously, if wages fail to rise sufficiently while profits and dividends and other forms of income increase disproportionately, consumer demand for goods and services will lag."

U.S. Envoy Attempted To Save Diem's Life

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Daily News says that South Vietnamese President Ngo Dinh Diem spurned two attempts by U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge to save Diem's life during the coup in Saigon.

Joseph Fried, The News correspondent in Saigon, gives this account:

"Diem telephoned Lodge at the U.S. Embassy late Friday afternoon as the rebels converged on his palace and frankly asked which side America supported."

"Lodge replied that he could make no decision in Saigon, adding: 'I am concerned for your personal safety. Please let me know if there is anything I can do.'"

of the essence in dealing with a man of this kind."

Mr. Chevrier said Mr. Woolliams either did not read his statements in the Commons or misinterpreted them. He said the charges sworn out Oct. 23 against Banks, Ernest Paul Carsh and Eldon Richardson, alias Jack Richardson, were the only ones so far laid by police.

However, other charges were being considered against Banks and other SIU officers arising out of the Norris inquiry into Great Lakes waterfront violence and the illegal walkout of the SIU just before the government placed the SIU and other maritime unions under trusteeship Oct. 23.

Mr. Woolliams said a search of the court records on his behalf showed that search warrants issued Oct. 21 had nothing whatever to do with the conspiracy charges against Banks but dealt with breaches of the Canada Shipping Act, with enticing seamen to desert.

He said Mr. Chevrier left the impression in the Commons when questioned earlier that the search warrants related to the conspiracy charge.

Mr. Chevrier said a number of search warrants were executed Nov. 1 and Nov. 2 relating to the conspiracy charges and also to violations of the Canada Shipping Act.

RADIO TO REPLACE NORAD CABLE

OTTAWA (CP) — North American Air Defence Command has taken further steps to guard against communications breakdowns between the ballistic missile early warning system and NORAD headquarters "at Colorado Springs, Colo., authorities said today.

The main communications channel from the missile warning station at Thule, Greenland, to NORAD is an undersea cable from Thule to Cape Dyer, Baffin Island. It has been broken on occasion by icebergs.

Officials said a new 591-mile communications link, primarily a radio system, will be built between Thule and Hall Beach on Melville Peninsula in the Northwest Territories. It will have four 120-square-foot billboard-type antennas. The Philips Corporation of the United States will install and operate the new link.

Bandit Killed

PARIS (AP)—One man was killed and seven were wounded in a noon-hour gun battle Monday when a holdup gang snatched a bag full of money and ran into a dozen policemen stalked out at their hide-out.

The dead man was the driver of the getaway car. Four policemen were among the wounded.

U.S. Stevedore Firm Seeks Injunction Against SIU

CHICAGO (AP) — The U.S. National Labor Relations Board opened an investigation Monday of unfair labor practice charges against the Stevedores' International Union (AFL-CIO).

SIU pickets have blocked loading of the Col. Robert R. McCormick and unloading of the Mondoc. Both are Canadian freighters.

The charge was filed with the NLRB Friday by a Chicago stevedoring contractor, John J. Bowen Incorporated. It charges that the SIU is engaging in a secondary boycott and therefore is proceeding illegally.

The union says it is picketing to protest the Canadian government's placing of the SIU of Canada and other Canadian maritime unions under government trusteeship.

Ross Madden, NLRB regional director, said he expected to complete his investigation of the charge "in the next couple of days." He said his findings will be forwarded to Washington for a preliminary determination.

AWAIT EVIDENCE

If the Washington office feels there is sufficient evidence to indicate unfair labor practices, Madden said, a temporary injunction against the SIU will be sought in U.S. district court, pending a final determination by the labor board.

The two freighters docked in Chicago last week with cargoes of newsprint.

The McCormick, owned by the Quebec and Ontario Transportation Company, a subsidiary of the Tribune Company of Chicago, unloaded its cargo. It had moved to the Calumet River to take on grain when it was hit by the work stoppage.

The Mondoc, owned by N.M. Paterson and Sons Limited, Fort William, Ont., had unloaded less than half its 1,400-ton cargo when SIU pickets appeared Friday and longshoremen refused to cross their line.

Frank Abusson, an international representative of the SIU, said any Canadian freighters arriving in Chicago will be picketed.

OTTAWA (CP) — External Affairs Minister Martin told the Commons Monday he has asked the Canadian embassy in Washington to report what steps the United States government will take to end picketing of two Canadian ships in River to take on grain when it

Light your way to Comfort

A different bulb. A change in the position of a lamp. Little things like these can make a big difference to your day to day comfort. Good lighting in fact can reduce tension and fatigue, ease visual problems, make work less tiring and play more fun.

There's more to good lighting than having enough light. Research shows that good lighting means having the right amount of light in the right place. Lighting that is free from glare, shadow and sharp contrasts that cause discomfort and fatigue. Lighting research also shows that there is a correct lighting formula for every activity—from reading in bed to preparing a meal.

FREE! Home Lighting Kit! All of these valuable "lighting recipes" are yours in a free kit available from B.C. Hydro. The booklets in this kit tell you how to position lamps and fixtures for the best visual comfort. What size and type bulbs to choose for different jobs. How to decorate with light. How to plan lighting for kitchens, dens and entrance halls. In short, how to add comfort and beauty to every room in your home. To get your free kit, just write or call "Lighting Advisory Service" at your nearest B.C. Hydro office. Good lighting can bring a new standard of comfort to your daily life. New Law Studied On Chemical Use

A law controlling use and sale of household and agricultural chemicals may be introduced at the next session of the provincial legislature, Agriculture Minister Frank Richter said Monday.

The whole matter is under study by a special committee. A subcommittee of civil servants will be set up to make suggestions on the new law.

Mr. Richter said the main problem is to strike a happy balance between prohibition and complete freedom to use potentially dangerous drugs.

There must be protection for the public, but at the same time the manufacturer deserves a fair deal.

Mr. Richter said he doesn't want the case against chemicals to go too far—as far as what he termed "fanatic" public outcry about nuclear fallout in Eastern Canada. "It's very likely there will have to be an act brought in," Mr. Richter said.

"The boys are looking into it right now.

"There is every possibility it might be brought in at the coming session."

OTTAWA (CP)—The Canadian Association of Consumers today urged that sale of pesticides be restricted to retail outlets approved and licensed by the federal government.

In a brief to the Commons food and drug committee, the association also recommended that more federal inspectors be hired to step up the testing of food products to make sure they are free from excessive residues of poisonous chemicals used in pest control.

Coupled with this should be a crackdown to ensure that all persons producing or marketing chemical-contaminated foods are prosecuted and the prosecutions given wide publicity.

On the subject of restricted sales outlets, the CAC brief said the staffs of approved stores would be trained to give full and proper advice to pesticide purchasers. It noted that Manitoba already has such a plan in effect.

Labelling of pesticide containers was criticized. Warnings about the dangers of chemicals to humans were too often printed in small type on the back or side of the container.

The brief also proposed that containers be redesigned. Some spray-type cans had a tendency to drip on the finger that presses the release nozzle. This was a hazard when using highly-toxic pesticides that may be absorbed through the skin.

A greater education campaign was needed to acquaint farmers and householders with the hazards of pesticide poisoning.

More research was required to determine the cumulative effects of small amounts of pesticides in the body. Research should also be aimed at developing chemicals less harmful to humans.

'Prosecutor's Zeal' Used By SIU Prober

The royal commissioner on Great Lakes shipping violence was biased against Seafarers' International Union, the SIU's west coast vice-president told University of Victoria students Monday.

Roderick B. Heinekey, of Vancouver, said Mr. Justice T. G. Norris, also of Vancouver, used "a prosecutor's zeal to make a case against the SIU."

He spoke to university's Political Science Forum.

He charged that federal government trusteeship over the union is "the most vicious piece of legislation" ever passed in Canada or the western world.

Mr. Norris spent most of 1962 hearing evidence of violence in connection with inter-union rivalry and control of seamen. He recommended trusteeship as one means of bringing order to the industry.

Mr. Heinekey claimed the government now is trying to justify trusteeship by charging union officers with acts of violence, for example, a six-year-old parking lot brawl.

The SIU has never been involved in organized violence, the vice-president said.

He also said the full union story has not been published because a hostile press feared reprisals from upper Great Lakes shipping interests who would cut off advertising.

SIU president Hal Banks is not "hiding out" as suggested last week, but is in Montreal keeping aloof from the press, Mr. Heinekey said.

'OTHER WOMAN' ANGLE RAISED

'Million Dollar Insurance' Murder Plan Alleged

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—The state charged Monday that sex, in addition to money, was a key motive in the "murder for hire" slaying of Mrs. T. Eugene Thompson, wife of a prosperous St. Paul criminal lawyer.

Prosecutor William Randall raised the "other women" angle for the first time in court in a sensational opening statement to a jury trying Thompson, 35, for arranging his attractive wife's brutal beating-slashing murder in a plan that went awry.

Originally, Randall told the six-man, six-woman jury, Mrs. Thompson was to have been knocked unconscious with a rubber hose, strangled, and placed in a filled bathtub in the Thompsons' fashionable St. Paul home to make the death appear an accidental drowning.

This plan was launched, Randall said, not just so Thompson could collect the more than $1,000,000 in insurance he had recently taken out on Mrs. Thompson's life, but so that he could marry another woman he had been seeing illicitly.

STARES AT FLOOR

The slight, crew-cut defendant stared at the floor as Randall read the indictment. He placed a hand on his forehead, shading his eyes, as details of the alleged friendship with another woman and of the brutal killing were outlined.

The other woman was not identified by Randall except as the mother of three and a former secretarial employee in Thompson's law office. Randall said Thompson financed her training in secretarial school, took numerous trips with her, and spent nights in hotels and motels with her.

"We will show," the prosecutor said, "that the man married to Carol Thompson advised another woman back in early 1962 'just give me 11 months to arrange affairs so that he could marry her.' Mrs. Thompson was killed March 6, 1963.

NAMES AGENT

The prosecutor named Norman Mastrian, 39, a former boxer, as Thompson's agent in arranging the killing. Randall said Mastrian received $2,500 in 100 bills indirectly from Thompson, and hired the killer after three others had turned down the job.

Mastrian and Dick W. C. Anderson, 35, both of Minneapolis, and both with minor police records, are being held on first degree murder charges in Mrs. Thompson's death.

Because the amount of insurance Thompson was buying on his wife's life mounted so swiftly, Randall charged, an insurance firm applied to Lloyd's of London to underwrite the risk. After several days, said Randall, Lloyd's did so.

Randall described Mrs. Thompson, the mother of four young children, as a "very warm and friendly person, a gracious hostess."

MADE PROMISE

Randall said the state would show that before Thompson took his wife on a trip to Chicago in January, 1962—three months before her death—he promised the other woman he would "get things straightened out."

While Thompson was buying insurance for his wife, Randall said, Mastrian was shopping for a hired killer in Minneapolis, hiring a fourth man after three turn-downs.

The original "murder by drowning" plan was scheduled a day earlier, and did not come off for reasons Randall did not spell out to the jury.

Mrs. Thompson died in a St. Paul hospital a few hours after being beaten about the head with a pistol butt and stabbed in the neck with a paring knife. Doctors found the broken knife blade still lodged in her throat.

Anti-British Trade Feeling Under Fire

OTTAWA (UPI)—Newly-appointed British High Commissioner Sir Henry Lintott today renewed his country's concern over alleged anti-British discrimination in Canadian trade regulations.

He told a news conference that was "fairly widespread" feeling in Britain that some Canadian tariff policies raised "a difficult handicap for British exporters."

He added that, while he was not "dogmatic" on the issue, he certainly would raise the question with the Canadian government.

Lintott, who arrived from London last week, spoke out on the trade controversy only days after retiring Canadian High Commissioner to London George Drew rejected "with the utmost emphasis" British charges of discrimination.

Drew, in a London speech, placed the major blame for Britain's heavy trade imbalance with Canada on the failure of British exporters to make an all-out effort to sell in the Canadian market.

Lintott, admitting "a slight contradiction" with Drew, also questioned this point.

Over age 50? How about YOUR life insurance

The 50's bring new dimensions to life and to a man's need for life insurance. The children have grown up, retirement is not far away and the tax people are getting interested in your estate.

You need a lifetime income for your wife—a requirement that is emphasized when you consider life expectancy tables and the good chance most wives have of outliving their husbands.

A surprising number of people have taxable estates these days, thanks to inflated values. Estate taxes could be a thorny problem for your heirs and may require the sale of irreplaceable assets.

Age 65 for most men brings retirement—years that can be a rich and satisfying experience if you have enough income.

The ideal solution to all these problems is Life Insurance, guaranteeing immediate cash or lifetime income depending on the need. Talk to the Man from Manufacturers. You'll find him especially helpful in measuring your present insurance against these "new dimensions" after 50.

Labor and the Press

(Today's guest editorial was written by Ald. Alf Toone, secretary-treasurer of the Victoria Labour Council.)

LABOR IS THE LARGEST, single, organizational group in Canada. It is representative of workers who contribute over one million man-days every twenty-four hour working period to the life and economy of this nation. What Labor does is bound to be news. Its triumphs, its defeats, its goals, its hopes and indeed its fears, are all news. However, there must be a balanced presentation of all these ingredients if people are to appreciate what is truly Labor.

Each day ours is becoming more an industrial society in which the individual sometimes seems to be hopelessly lost. But he is not, if he is able to express his views through associations of his own choosing, reflecting the variety of his interests.

Trade Unions reflect his interest as a worker, which are reported, through the printed word, to his fellow citizens by the Press. Thus, honest and factual reporting and editorials are vitally important.

Many influences are at work to cloud this responsibility. In order to create reader interest, the Press seeks the dramatic and the violent. The picaresque strike rates a thousand times the copy of the peaceful settlement—probably because there are ninety-nine peaceful settlements which are a great influence for good if examined properly, for every industrial dispute.

Central control and advertising influence of the means upon which men, women and children are almost entirely dependent for the information on which they, as free citizens of a democracy, can be expected to form decisions is something for great concern. In our Democratic society the press has a great responsibility — the duty to honestly inform and educate — certainly not to obscure or prejudice.

It is entrusted with the responsibility for the channels of communication and the fact is that democracy is directly dependent upon the free flow of information.

Labor is, and must continue to be, aware of its responsibilities. It maintains that Canadian workers, as free citizens, are entitled to secure and protect their mutual welfare, and that of their families, by all legitimate means. It remains unalterably opposed to corruption and totalitarian ideologies in all forms and seeks to eliminate tyranny, oppression, exploitation, hunger and fear, as well as discrimination on the basis of race, color, creed or national origin.

A free press does and should champion such ideals. Representations and recommendations of Labor in the maintenance and improvement of employment opportunities, in which they are basically interested, can be important, too. At this time a substitute shipbuilding activity, such as the construction of a Merchant and Scientific Marine, in view of the staggering job-loss by the cutting of the frigate program, is particularly well taken.

We are probably at the threshold of a new period in the attitudes of Government (restrictive legislation is not the answer), Labor, Management and other forces in the community, towards the administration of our domestic economy.

Although Labor is not opposed to technological advances which bring about increased production efficiency, it has stated for years that there is a very real need for advance warning of these changes, of carefully planned programs to avoid human suffering and wastage which can so easily be the result without economic planning of this kind. The dissemination of information by the press can be a great assistance to the people of Canada in these matters.

The news of the activities of groups with members of Labor in the municipal community is a rich field for reports. In a survey, carried out by the Canadian Labour Congress, local Labour Councils (including Victoria) in 32 centres were represented in no less than 74 public committees, boards, etc., many of them duplicated in each centre. Members of Labor produce this paper you are reading.

It has been stated that "good labor standards are SOCIETY'S conscience." This is a worthy aspect and Labor should continue to strive for better standards of living for all. The Press can tell the story and still produce good reading which is more than a business. It is, or should be, a reflection of local and national life, of national institutions, and it should mirror the NATIONAL conscience.

Only a free press and a free trade union movement can carry out their responsibility in our democratic society. This is a matter of unbounded importance to us, the citizens of today, and our children, the citizens of tomorrow.

The Drop-Out Story

THE APPARENT FAILURE OF an American crash program to bring drop-outs back to school and hold them there provides a lesson of sorts for British Columbia.

This province wants to carry as many of its young people as far as possible in school—to the limit of their abilities.

To put the provincial drop-out picture in proper perspective, a general statement and a few figures should be useful.

British Columbia has a high rate of retention for students in its schools. Of all those who enter elementary classes, 87 per cent reach Grade 10. This drops to 80 per cent entering Grade 11 and at Grade 12, formerly known as junior matriculation, the total falls to 67 per cent. That means that in the last year before university, one-third of our children have left school, largely through academic failure. They have been unable to do the work prescribed for the different courses or have been so indifferent to it that they have quit.

This is a situation somewhat similar to, but much less extreme, than that prevailing in the United States, where the crash program was launched.

By various inducements, according to an Associated Press report, 800 drop-outs were brought back to school. By the end of two weeks, half of them had quit again, and by the end of a month, 75 per cent had left.

One analyst blames the failure in large part on the fact that drop-outs were brought back to classes which were too crowded, that they were given subjects beyond their abilities, or which lacked interest for them.

British Columbia, hoping to encourage further study by those who now do not reach junior matric, is attempting to break its secondary school population down into three streams, in accordance with Chant Commission recommendations. One stream would proceed to academic work, presumably leading to university. Another would be given instruction in vocational subjects. A third would be channeled into technical classes.

On the face of it, this effort makes good sense. If those who are relatively non-academic are offered something valuable and interesting to them, they may reasonably be expected to continue their school attendance.

But this is not merely an issue for educators. It is most emphatically a question for the taxpayer. When educationalists provide vocational and technical equipment and supplies to train those not inclined to academic subjects, the costs rise sharply. The "new dimensions" here, as in universities, have a broad dollar basis.

Of 'Natural' Causes

VANCOUVER CORONER GLEN McDonald proved it is not necessary to be emotional to be eloquent when he translated into terms of dollars and cents the cost to taxpayers of the more than 500 Indian women who have drifted into the squalor of the mainland city's "skid road" area.

Mr. McDonald made the estimate at the inquest for a young Indian woman who collapsed and died while she was being taken to the police station on her 32nd drunk charge. The jury ruled—there was little alternative—that the woman died of natural causes brought on by the excessive use of alcohol, although there is surely little that is "natural" about a woman of 24 meeting her death in that way.

The coroner, who has presided over all too many inquests of a similar nature, said that "with no emotion, no Christian endeavor, no sociological implication," he could state that it had cost $2,543 through arrests, convictions and imprisonment for the six years the woman had lived in the slum area.

Multiply that figure by the slightly more than 500 other Indian women in similar circumstances and the total cost to the taxpayers came to $1,200,000.

It is not, however, enough to look at these cases in terms of dollars and cents. The dreadful wastage of human life and the continuing misery are the main problem and, together with the cost, are convincing arguments in favor of the "quick government action to rehabilitate Indian women who have drifted into skid-road" which was urged by the coroner's jury.

Those That Will Not Hear

MR. DIEFENBAKER, in his television address on Wednesday, complained that false attacks had been made on him and were still being made.

In the same speech, the Conservative leader discussed Canadian-American relations. He said:

"With mutual trust disappearing between our two countries, the prime minister decided to resort to telephone diplomacy with the president of the United States. He gave Parliament to understand that he could call the president at any time. Anyone of us can do that, but will he answer? He tried for several hours but only the Ottawas end was open.

"But the truth is coming out with the passing months."

It can scarcely be said that Mr. Diefenbaker has gone all out to hurry it along.

For some strange reason the tale of the telephone has become an obsession with the leader of the opposition. Yet the facts are all on the record and they contradict Mr. Diefenbaker's version.

Disturbed

The matter first arose on Friday, October 11, when Parliament, then considering the trusteeship bill, was greatly disturbed by reported statements of Mr. Wirtz and Mr. Meany. The prime minister undertook to bring the views of the House to the attention of the president. Early in the evening the press gallery was advised by an official from the prime minister's office that Mr. Pearson intended to telephone the White House. No time had been arranged although it was then thought that the call would be made late Friday night.

There was no obvious urgency about the matter because Parliament does not meet on Saturdays.

What happened was clearly stated by the prime minister on Monday, October 14, when Mr. Paul Martineau (PC—Fort-Témiscamingue) inquired about "reported difficulties and delays . . . in reaching President Kennedy." Mr. Pearson said flatly that "there were no difficulties or delays." He added:

"Immediately after the debate on this matter on Friday morning, and on Friday afternoon, I instructed that the record of the debate be sent at once to our embassy in Washington for the benefit of the state department and the White House, so that when I talked with the president he would have the record before him. That was done immediately, and, at the end of the afternoon, I phoned our embassy in Washington and asked them to get in touch with the White House to see if the president had a chance to study that record and if the president would be available to talk to me that evening.

Immediate Reply

"I got a reply immediately that the president would be very glad to talk to me at once, or at any time convenient to me. At that time he was in conference over the dangerous situation developing in access to Berlin, and his office said that if I preferred to wait until that meeting was over he would speak to me afterward and he would have the benefit of reading the record. I said I wanted to give him enough time to read the record, and I called him after breakfast on Saturday morning."

The record which the prime minister wished the president to read included serious questions and observations by Mr. Diefenbaker.

Although the above account seems straight forward enough and the procedure followed sensible enough, Mr. Diefenbaker did not accept the explanation. On October 21, the matter arose again. In the course of a speech on the Great Lakes labor situation, the Conservative leader said:

"The government decided it would ask the president of the United States for some help. It would be interesting,

Abstract Racket

Some time ago I came across a letter by Mrs. Craner with regard to abstract art, and it so impressed me that I thought it might bear repeating in your columns. The letter, which convinced me more than ever that abstract art is just a ridiculous trick, reads as follows:

"It is about time to expose (as they are doing already in Europe) the abstract art big business racket and cheating of the public.

"Pablo Picasso said, according to American Mercury, August, 1957: 'The refined, the rich, the professional do-nothings, the distillers of quintessence desire only the peculiar, the sensational, the eccentric, the scandalous in today's art. And I, myself, since the advent of cubism, have fed these fellows what they wanted, and satisfied these critics with all the ridiculous ideas that have passed through my head . . .

"But when I am alone, I do not have the effrontery to consider myself an artist at all, not in the grand old meaning of the word: Giotto; Titian, Rembrandt, Goya were great painters, I am only a public clown—a moustebank."

Perhaps this admission of Picasso's will help to explain how his later works and those of other painters adhering to their style, have been called degenerate paintings by many lovers of beauty.

Better Business Deal

May I add a citizen's voice of appreciation for our new Better Business Bureau and the exceptionally fine service of its manager, Mr. Tindall. I should like to point out that Victoria citizens would do well to patronize those firms who are supporting members.

Permit me to explain with two examples. Last week Victoria's very well known Window Service firm spent an hour at our home cleaning all our windows, climbing up high ladders and providing all materials. Their charge—$6.00. (I notice that this firm is a supporter of B.B.B.). The following day I phoned a roofing repair man (who carries a large ad in the telephone book's yellow pages!) to repair a leak in our roof. He spent 40 minutes, used an 8" square piece of tin and a cupful of tar, and stated his charge was $30.

Thank goodness my quick-thinking wife said: "Submit your bill, and I'll submit it to the Better Business Bureau," whereupon he stormed off saying "Forget the whole thing!" Incidentally, a reliable roofer has since told me the charge for my roof-repair should have been about $61.

I wonder how many people are constantly being "taken" in Victoria, or were, before we had a Better Business Bureau? Citizens should keep the list of firms who are supporters and use it and them for their own protection, when they are in doubt.

To Help a Blind Man

This letter is written in the hope that it may be read by some man in good health, who may be unemployed on a Wednesday afternoon, and who would be willing on fine days to take a totally blind and paralyzed young man in a wheelchair from the Mt. St. Mary Hospital to the meetings of the White Cane Club which are held each week at the Blind Centre, 1609 Blanshard

Street, starting at 2 p.m. and closing with afternoon tea soon after 3:30 p.m., when the blind are taken back to their homes.

This lad has been in the Mt. St. Mary Hospital for several years and his condition is such that he cannot be taken in a car.

While the meetings are in progress you will have tea in the lounge and enjoy the fellowship of many other volunteer workers.

If you will kindly write me at 600 Transit Road, phone EV 4-1323, or call, the fullest details will be gladly given.

LONDON:

Partners In Part

By NORA BELOFF from London

BRITAIN'S new Prime Minister, Sir Alec Douglas-Home, once authoritatively described as "Washington's pin-up boy," may turn out to be less willing to follow President Kennedy's lead than his previous record as Foreign Secretary might suggest.

The degree of divergence may become more apparent when Sir Alec has had his first summit encounter with the President. The bi-annual rhythm of Anglo-American meetings was established by Mr. Harold Macmillan, and as the last two (at Nassau and Birch Grove) have both been on British soil, by the end of the year it will be America's turn to be host.

Despite the solemn declarations of Anglo-American solidarity which always follow these top-level encounters, it is now known that the last two Kennedy-Macmillan meetings were far less cordial than the earlier ones.

At Nassau, last December, there was a heated argument about Britain's nuclear future. The Americans were reluctantly prevailed on to provide Britain with Polaris missiles to be placed on British submarines assigned to Nato command—but withdrawable in any circumstances judged by the British Government to constitute a national, but not a Nato emergency.

The Americans disliked the idea of Britain regaining ultimate control of its American-made deterrent. The price for the concession was an agreement by the British, at the same meeting, to join with the Americans in working out plans for a "multilateral" Nato nuclear force to be owned, manned and operated jointly by those Nato countries willing to co-operate.

Mixed-Manned Force

It was already plain that this agreement was intended by the Americans to apply to the idea then floating about in Washington for a mixed-manned naval force, equipped with Polaris missiles under joint management and control.

Yet, six months later, when Mr. Kennedy came to Birch Grove, he found Mr. Macmillan reluctant to proceed with this arrangement. The Prime Minister told him the mixed-manned force was running into sharp hostility and even outright abuse from members of the British Cabinet and senior military officers.

Meanwhile, the Americans had persuaded the Germans to co-sponsor the undertaking and German leaders agreed that their participation in a mixed-manned force would eliminate any need Germany might otherwise feel to acquire a nuclear force of its own. The Nato nuclear navy thereupon became, and still remains, a focal point of American foreign policy.

Throughout these critical months American displeasure with Mr. Macmillan did not extend to his Foreign Secretary, Lord Home, as he then was, had shown from the moment that he was appointed Foreign Secretary that he shared the American view for greater "firmness" against Communist threats.

During the Cuban crisis a year ago his immediate support for the American decision to place a blockade on Cuba contrasted with Mr. Macmillan's dread of anything which seemed to increase the risks of thermo-nuclear collision.

Differ on Russia

As Mr. Macmillan grew older he seemed increasingly preoccupied with the risks of war, while his Foreign Secretary was, and probably still is, convinced that the Russians, confronted with a stern and united Western position, could always be relied on to give in.

Nobody was therefore surprised when, on the multi-manned navy, the Foreign Secretary came out on the American side, urging that Britain should participate with other Nato countries in working out the blueprints. It was well known in Washington as in London that it was Home's stand on this issue that persuaded Mr. Macmillan to override political and diplomatic objections and order his officials to join in the study groups preparing the new force.

Yet already there are signs that the Home-Butler tandem will not be so very different, or from the American point of view—so much more reliable, than the Macmillan-Home tandem which preceded.

The man in charge of British foreign policy is a natural diplomat, convinced that the time has come to do business with the Soviet bloc and quietly resolved to do his best to delay any decision on the mixed-manned force which—since it has been publicly castigated by Mr. Khrushchev—might obstruct an improvement in East-West relations.

Would Ditch Containment

Mr. Butler is perfectly aware of the limitations on Britain's freedom of action and is anxious to keep in step with other members of the Western Alliance. But his aim is to convince them that the time has now come to reject the idea of "containment" as the guiding principle in dealing with the Communist countries, and try instead to seek out areas where active co-operation is possible.

In principle, President Kennedy also favors new initiatives to follow the first formal East-West agreement on a partial nuclear test ban. But, as his Secretary of State, Mr. Dean Rusk, emphasized in his speech at Frankfurt last week, this must not be allowed to impede progress towards the projected nuclear force which, in the American view, would "create an inexorable nuclear tie" between Europe and the United States and "give a new dimension to our partnership."

Meanwhile, the new Prime Minister has taken the occasion of his byelection at Kinross to air his hopes for new improvements in East-West relations, making how far these differences will emerge into the open depends a great deal on how the Russians behave. If they renew their pressure on Berlin, make trouble along the autobahn, or show themselves pugnacious on any of the other familiar cold war battlefields, Britain will again fall into line.

But if the detente is allowed to proceed, the Americans will find the new British leaders, like their predecessors, eager to cling to their own nuclear sovereignty, but always more receptive than either the Americans or their principal European partners to olive branches from the East.

(London Observer Service)

Gerald Waring ...REPORTING

OTTAWA—Old grudges die hard in the House of Commons because fresh conflicts give them new sustenance when the original causes of animosity have become but incidents in political history.

I felt this especially last week as I watched John Diefenbaker, his features suffused with anger, vent his spleen on Speaker Macnaughton for having given the floor to the former defence minister, Douglas Harkness.

There had been a two-day defence debate. Harkness had been told by the chair that he would get the floor after Quebec Creditiste Gilles Giguere, but the chair recognized four other MPs before giving the floor to the former defence minister.

By then there appeared only time for one more speaker before the vote, and Tory whip Eric Winkler moved that the floor be given to the former transport minister, Leon Balcer. This was obviously an effort by the Conservatives to muzzle and humiliate their former defence minister, and no one in the Commons was in any doubt as to whose fertile and vindictive mind had conceived this gambit.

Mr. Diefenbaker bears a grudge of monumental proportions against Mr. Harkness, stemming from the latter's resignation from the cabinet over the nuclear arms issue last February. At the time Diefenbaker called Harkness a traitor; since then the former PM has all but ostracized Harkness, even refusing him membership on the Commons' defence committee.

Harkness, a Banquo's ghost sitting on the fringe of the Tory benches, has become the rallying point of opposition, such as it is.

to Diefenbaker's continued leadership of the Tory party. He has called for a convention to consider the leadership question, and has some supporters within the party caucus.

It is significant that after the vote Tuesday that confirmed the Speaker's ruling to hear Harkness, one Tory MP who arose to announce he had not voted because he was paired with an absent Liberal intimating he would have voted to hear Harkness. He is Jack McIntosh (Con.-Swift-Current-Mile Creek, Sask.).

It was ironical that the man who made great political capital of having been howled down by the Grits in the Commons last year was frustrated and angered by his failure to prevent Harkness from speaking. Fearful too, perhaps—suggesting that Diefenbaker is less confident than he appears that the party's annual convention in February will give him a resounding vote of confidence.

Diefenbaker complained that the Speaker's ruling had "denied us the right to have anyone speak for this party... to explain the vote we are making this evening." This statement underlined the ostracism of Harkness. However, in matter of fact Harkness spoke only 15 minutes, leaving 15 minutes in which Balcer wound up the debate for the Tories.

By the rules Speaker Macnaughton was entirely right. He is not bound by any predetermined speaking precedence, and it is wholly within his prerogative to recognize any MP who arises to speak.

And surely it was within the bounds of reason to give an opportunity to speak to the man who had been defence minister for 2½ years, until February. But a mind that hates is not reasonable.

THE LIGHTER SIDE

All Dressed Up

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The fact that an attractive young German woman was forced to return home because of her alleged friendship with unidentified officials here is of little interest to me.

What I find intriguing is the manner in which the matter came to light. According to a report I have been reading with beady little eyes, the state department became suspicious of her conduct because she was "dressing beyond her means."

Presumably, her clothing was more expensive than the wife of a German sergeant would ordinarily be able to buy. This strikes me as being a rather slim reed upon which to base an investigation. My own wife, for instance, has been dressing beyond her means for years. Or at least beyond my means.

But as far as I know she has never caused an eyebrow-lifting at state department.

If buying dresses that their husbands can't afford is a sign that women are less than virtuous, then there must be a terrific traffic jam along the primrose path.

What I would like to know is this: Who at the state department has charge of noticing that women are dressing beyond their means? And how do you go about getting a job like that?

Much of the social life in Washington revolves around the embassy circuit. The dress inspector therefore must be a pretty busy fellow.

Publicity that the Ellen Romech case has been getting, coming on top of the Christine Keeler case in London, undoubtedly will make his work a lot harder.

If I were a socialite, I would be sure I wore last year's dress the next time I attended a party on embassy row.

Ladies attending these functions probably will find it more difficult from now on to maintain their composure when they spot some guy giving them the once-over.

They won't know whether he's admiring her figure, or trying to appraise the cost of her own gown.

It would well be, of course, that the state department's dress inspector is a woman. That would permit the inspector to feel the quality of the drygoods without risking a punch in the nose.

Or it could be that the department uses a two-man inspection team, one being a fashion expert and the other an accountant.

As for us husbands, the case suggests a rule of thumb that we can follow. As long as our wives' clothing keeps us broke, we can be fairly certain they are being faithful.

'SWEEP UNDER RUG'

Grits Assailed On Jobless

OTTAWA (CP)—The minority Liberal government was assailed Monday in the Commons with the same issue it used so frequently in opposition—unemployment.

The Progressive Conservatives, launching a two-day supply debate, moved a non-confidence motion expressing regret that despite election campaign promises the Liberals have failed to "introduce any effective new policies or programs to reduce substantially unemployment in Canada and in particular to alleviate winter unemployment."

New Democrats promptly moved an amendment alleging government failure to "propose any plans for the fundamental economic and social changes required to deal with the chronic and growing problems of unemployment caused by automation and technological change."

Both motions of non-confidence will be voted on tonight.

Former Conservative labor minister Michael Starr said the Liberal government simply wants to sweep the topic of unemployment under the rug.

His speech launched the fifth of six supply debates provided in each parliamentary session for the opposition to mount non-confidence motions.

The sixth and last will be held next Tuesday.

Teacher Pay Conciliators Appointed

Conciliators to work with teacher and school trustee spokesmen in 1963-64 salary negotiations were named today. They are former Greater Victoria School Board chairman W. C. Gelling, for trustees, and Dr. I. D. Pal, assistant professor of economics at the University of Victoria, who will act for teachers.

Dr. Pal acted in the interests of teachers in last year's negotiations.

Teachers have asked for a 7.14 per cent average increase in salaries that would total $418,470 a year. Trustees have not countered with an offer or suggested a compromise, claiming teachers have no case for a wage hike.

Author Arrested

LISBON, Portugal (AP)—Informed sources in Lisbon reported Saturday the political police have arrested Elves Redol, a prize-winning Portuguese author. He is the third intellectual said to have been taken into police custody this week. Novelist Alexandre Cabral and playwright Alberto Ferreira were reported to have been arrested earlier. All are reputed to be opponents of Premier Antonio De Oliveira Salazar's regime.

'High Quality, Low Cost' Jodoin's Medicare Goal

WINNIPEG (CP)—Claude Jodoin, president of the Canadian Labour Congress, said Monday labor wants a medical care program "operated by the people in the interests of the people."

He told a Canadian Club luncheon:

"We want to see a program that will cover everyone, and cover them on an equal basis."

"We want a program that will provide the highest possible quality of service and provide protection against unexpected bills."

The program, he said, should be aimed at keeping people well, not just getting them better once they are sick.

Mr. Jodoin said he had been told repeatedly that Canadian workers are too highly paid.

"But one thing that has struck me about these suggestions is that they nearly always come from people who are talking about someone else."

He said labor is not living beyond the means of Canada to support it and labor knows its responsibility to the economy.

The CLC president said labor is being made aware increasingly of the demand for higher education.

"Within a few miles of my home in Ottawa there is a mill. One qualification to get a job as a laborer in that mill is now grade 12 education."

Mr. Jodoin said he had heard it said the only course for those to take who have not finished grade 12 is the course back to school.

"This may be an exaggerated opinion. We all know that there are some children who will not complete grade 12."

"But the fact remains that a good education is far more essential today than ever before."

Scottish Nationalist Backed By Clandestine Radio in Hills

GLASGOW (CP)—Radio Free Scotland, an illegal radio station that started operating in 1956, has moved into the Perthshire hills to campaign for the Scottish Nationalist candidate in Thursday's by-election.

The nightly half-hour broadcast heard on the BBC television sound wavelength after the normal program schedule is in support of Arthur Donaldson, one of six candidates opposing Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home.

Despite several close calls, police have been unable to track down the transmitter, which is moved to a new location every day or so.

Immediately the BBC-TV closes down, and before viewers have time to switch off, the transmitter-booms in with a recording of Scotland's Brave and the announcement,

"this is Radio Free Scotland." Ironically, the recording was made by the City of Edinburgh Police Pipe Band.

An unidentified spokesman for this underground broadcasting organization said at a clandestine press conference that the Scottish National Party is barred by various election rules from putting its policy before the electors.

All the candidates are barred from TV under the all-or-none regulation invoked when Liberal Alastair Miller refused to appear.

As far as radio is concerned, only national parties—those which run at least 50 candidates in general elections—are granted free broadcast time. There are 71 parliamentary seats in Scotland but the SNP usually enters only a handful of candidates.

The SNP, which backs home rule for Scotland, now has no representatives in Parliament, the last having been elected during the Second World War. Of the 71 Scottish seats, two now are vacant, 38 are Labor, 30 Conservative and one Liberal.

"The transmitter is being moved from village to village for two reasons," the organization spokesman said. "We want to avoid detection by the police and also our range is limited and this is a very large constituency."

Important CPR Parley Set at Calgary

By GORDON BELL
Times Business Editor

For the first time in its history the Canadian Pacific Railway board of directors meets next Monday in Calgary, at the invitation of its newest and youngest director, G. Maxwell Bell.

Mr. Bell, who is also one of the few thorough-going western Canadians to place on the CPR board, represents a new Canadian financial group which is reputed to have some fresh ideas as to the direction the railway's affairs should take in the future.

Because of this Calgary meeting could be extremely important, not only to the railway and its shareholders but to the general economy of the country inasmuch as the CPR is one of the largest holders of prime real estate, including vast natural resources, in Canada.

Obvious direction of change if changes are made, would be in the method of administration of these resources which are outside the transportation field. The outstanding success of Consolidated Mining and Smelting, which was set up by the CPR as a separate company in which the CPR holds control, could be a possible model for the railway in such fields as oil and gas, forest production and other mining situations.

To effect this change, the CPR would have to become in part a straight transportation company and in part an investment company rather than, as now, a transportation and holding company.

With its revenues now being greatly augmented by the grain sales, which are more than 50 per cent carried on its lines, as well as the prospect of greater utilization of its outside resources, the CPR looks like a very interesting situation.

Consolidated net earnings of B-A Oil for the third quarter showed an increase over the same period last year, according to president E. D. Loughney, but earnings for the first nine months were lower.

The third-quarter gain was offset to some degree by an increase in Canadian income taxes due to using the balance of Canadian Gulf tax deductions during 1962. Earnings from refining and marketing showed some improvement as a result of firming of gasoline prices.

B-A's net production of crude, natural gas liquids and gas in Western Canada continued to show improvement over last year and the company's aggressive exploration program was maintained at the 1962 level.

Sales of Dominion Tar and Chemical for the third quarter were up 2 per cent over last year's period but net profit of $6,274,000 or 43 cents per share was down 9 per cent from the previous year.

Profit gains in chemicals and construction materials continued to be offset by declines in some paper products, and profits were also adversely affected by the start-up expenses on new production facilities.

For the nine months ended Sept. 30 sales were ahead of last year but net profit of $14,060,000 or 95 cents per share is down from the revised 1962 figure of $15,691,000 or $1.08 per share.

MARKET SUMMARIES

Mixed Pattern Seen In Toronto Trading

Most groups showed a mixed pattern in moderately heavy trading on the Toronto stock market today.

Banks, however, were down in a solid line except Bank of Montreal which was unchanged.

Imperial Bank of Commerce dropped 4 1/2, Toronto-Dominion and Royal each 4 1/2 and Nova Scotia 4 1/2.

Biggest loss on the main board was a 1 1/2 drop by General Motors. Best gain was a 1/2 advance by Canadian General Investment to 4 1/2.

Wall Street was closed today for a New York civic holiday.

AT TORONTO liquor showed strength with Walker-Gooderham ahead 5 1/2 and Distillers-Scagrams 5 1/2. Among steel issues, Algoma gained 1/2, while Dominion Foundries and Steel was off 1/2.

Cassiar and Mining Corporation each dropped 1/2 and base metals, Rio Algom gained 1/2. In industrial base metals, International Nickel was up 1/2.

Oils were quiet with changes mostly on the plus side. Bailey Selburn A was one of the few exceptions, down 25 cents to $9.

There was no trading on the foreign market.

TODAY'S GRAIN
WINNIPEG (CP) - Trading on the Winnipeg grain exchange was dull towards the close today and prices showed an easier tone, reflecting the Chicago trend.

Oats and barley trading was generally domestic. There was however some commission house selling in oats and some overseas inquiry was in evidence.

The flax market was easier despite overnight sales of the commodity to Japan.

The rye market reflected the lower Chicago trend and rapeseed trading was quiet and mostly domestic.

Overnight export loadings of Canadian wheat included 1,230,000 bushels to Russia and 130,000 bushels to the United Kingdom.

Class two, TWA and domestic wheat prices, basis Lakehead, were all unchanged from Monday's close.

Victoria Firm Ships Chipper to Finland

A Victoria firm, Nicholson Murdie Machines Ltd. has just shipped a 25-ton, 112-inch pulpwood chipper to Helsinki, Finland.

E. C. Brown, manager of the firm, said today it is the second big export order for Nicholson Murdie and he has hopes it will be followed by other foreign orders for similar machinery.

About two years ago an 84-inch chipper was assembled in the Victoria plant for an Australian pulp mill.

The company also supplies chippers for B.C. and eastern Canadian mills.

The chipper, destined for the Kemijarvi Company of Helsinki, is a Hansel-design, drop-feed pulpwood chipper and is valued at $34,000 in U.S. funds.

It will handle logs up to 27 inches in diameter at a rate of 200 feet per minute and is the largest type chipper in common use in this province.

Kitimat Pulp Mill Plans Move Ahead

VANCOUVER (CP)—Fraser W. Bruce, president of the Aluminum Company of Canada, said Monday he is confident a pulp and paper mill is in the cards for Kitimat-B.C.

Whether it will be sooner or later he professed not to know in a speech to the Vancouver Board of Trade.

"Important relations have been established and the interested parties are now considering the project," he said.

"We look forward to their decision, but well understand that—in the case of pulp and paper—economic trends, markets and finances are problems just as difficult to assess and solve as they are in the aluminum industry.

"Disappointments often occur, but we feel confident that in due time our hopes will materialize."

Japanese interests have been reported making a feasibility study for a mill at Kitimat.

Reports have indicated Daisowa Paper Company and a West German paper firm are considering a partnership to build a $70,000,000 plant by 1968.

A TALE OF TWO CITIZENS

"It was a depression year, it was a good year, opportunities were scarce, opportunities were everywhere, fortune frowned, fortune smiled, one man was in the depths of despair, one man was riding the crest."

Probably, the explanation is simple.

One man, having given no heed for tomorrow was wallowing in self pity because no opportunities came his way.

The other, with a solid financial background, saw avenues of progress on every hand. This man had wisely purchased sufficient permanent personal life insurance so that he had the financial stability to be offered chances of advancement—and the borrowing power, if need be, to take advantage of them.

The secret of success is often as simple as that.

Today you can make plans for a brighter financial future. May we suggest you talk over your life and health insurance needs with a trained representative of The Excelsior Life Insurance Company, the Company helping Canadians help themselves to peace of mind.

Devonshire Hotel Sale Completed

VANCOUVER (CP)—The 230-room Devonshire Hotel on Vancouver's downtown Georgia Street is being sold, it was announced Monday.

The price involved and names of the new buyers were not announced, but it was speculated that the sale was for about $2,000,000 to a syndicate of Vancouver hotelmen and U.S. interests.

W. Fred Evans, president and manager of the hotel since 1948, said he and his family will complete the sale Dec. 1 to a real estate firm acting for the buyers.

IT'S MY VIEW

By

Vince Butler

(Guest Sports Editor)

Being asked to write a short piece for the Sports Dept. rather makes the writer feel like the butt of an old army joke. When asked what a man's trade was, he said "plumber." The answer was always the same:

"We have lots of plumbers, so you are a cook."

The only subject familiar enough to yours truly to qualify me for this kind of work are those relating to the Insurance business, drinking various brews, and playing piano. It therefore makes good sense that I become the Sports Editor today.

My knowledge of sports extends to three final games of the NHL and a few peeks at the World Series. I know nothing of either game, but have a marvellous time rooting for the underdog. It may well be, however, that I am not alone in this situation. In fact, I possibly would find several friends among the Vancouver crowd who must digest gobs of gunk, along with their Wheaties, about the B.C. Lions. I must say that The Times' editors at least have the nice manners and good policy of writing about the local kids first, and professional sports later.

Regardless of all this, as you may have already gathered, I am probably the most wordy person on any subject there is, and I cannot resist a challenge to write something about anything.

Let us look at this... There are practically no pheasants left in Saanich. The best-known reason is the excessive use of certain pesticides to kill the potato bugs, all and sundry, and of course old John Pheasant goes too. This is not news, as any one in the Fraser Valley will tell you. However, remembering the old story about "The Birds of Killingworth," I am just wondering where this will end. You kill the bugs, and the birds, so next year we still have the bugs, and a few new ones because there are no birds to eat the little pests up. So we apply a greater dose of a more lethal poison and get the rest of the birds. After that, we have only bugs and poisons, and who knows where it ends...

Of course, we cannot criticize the farmer, as he fed the birds for us gratis and he must make a living. Nevertheless, a little more scientific approach could just possibly keep both farmers and birds happy. Let us hope so, as nature's balance cannot normally be thrown too far out of gear.

The other matter comes to this newspaper expert is that of fishermen's contests.

Although the persons responsible for same in this city are very much respected by the writer, I must state that I have strong feelings on turning a bit of pleasant relaxation into a mad contest to win this or that, and turn the whole pleasant pastime of trying to get a fish—any old fish—into a bulling.

Speaking of bull, there was quite enough of same in the sports fishing crowd, without starting a contest to overwhelm us with the so-called "skill" in landing a miserable, sick, five-pound coho.

It sometimes would appear that the only reason for blowing this sport up to mammoth proportions is to sell boats and tackle. This is legitimate, but, in the writer's opinion, NOT AN UNPAID NEWSPAPER COPY. I feel that editorial copy in any field should be balanced, and should be fed to the readers in direct proportion to the percentage of the public concerned, or in the percentage of public interest.

It is no more correct to blow up the sales of the dealers in fishing equipment and neglect, editorially, other manufacturers, than it is to openly support one party in politics to the detriment of all others.

On the practical side of the never-ending list of catches, button-winners and the like, we have a Bay full of persons who don't know how to fish, and who spoil it for the others. We have accidents and will have more. But thank heaven we still have a solid core of persons who fish for fun and not prizes. I am proud to be among the latter.

As a small boy, I lived in Central Saanich. As in all small communities, we had our creek and every Sunday it was a thrill to go and try to catch a few five-inch brook trout. Once in a blue moon, someone would catch a sea trout. There were 60 years of kids spent Sunday after Sunday in countless areas of the island, putting in a healthy afternoon and having the time of their little lives. They had no other sports, and this was wonderful.

These are some of my very few childhood memories. And I speak here for countless persons from all communities in the entire province. We hurt no one; we used a willow rod, and hook and worm; we had no contests; we could not possibly fish out the creek, and there was always another year for nature to send us a new crop.

About a year ago, there was an article in another newspaper, by the outdoors writer, to the effect that you did not have to go far to get a small but delicious trout. The writer of the article proceeded to give forth with a list of every tiny creek in the area, giving directions as to how to get there, etc., etc., and pointing out that a man could get a catch. I became a man some 35 years ago, and I proudly state that I do not invade streams where little kids can have some fun. I feel that this should be left alone. If we must talk fishing, let's at least turn to a field that belongs to adults. God bless the little country boys, and may they be catching the odd wee minnow in their local creeks long after the ill-conceived fishermen's contest have gone back into limbo, or worse, from which they sprung, and to which they belong.

Mets Deal Craig For Card Slugger

NEW YORK (AP)—Encouraged by their success in the trading mart last year, St. Louis Cardinals pulled off another player deal Monday—their fifth in less than 12 months—acquiring pitcher Roger Craig from New York Mets in exchange for outfielder George Altman and minor league pitcher Bill Wakefield.

The trade, first of any significance since the close of the baseball season, was expected to benefit both clubs. St. Louis, with the best hitting club in the National League, was beaten for the pennant by Los Angeles Dodgers largely because of a pitching shortage.

Craig served well both as a starter and reliever last year despite his 5-22 won-and-lost record with the last-place Mets.

New York was woefully weak on attack last season. Altman is in position to provide some of the much-needed punch if he can return to the form that made him one of the National League's most respected batters before Cards acquired him from Chicago Cubs last winter.

Wakefield, a 22-year-old hopeful who attends Stanford University during the off-season, was 4-10 at Tulsa and Atlanta last season but comes well recommended.

"I would like to own the Orioles," Hoffberger said. "At present, neither of the two other principal stockholders wants to sell."

The others are Zany Kriger, club treasurer, and Joseph A. W. Iglehart, chairman of the board of directors. It is he who sold out entirely.

Police Dog Routs Clay From Sonny's Doorstep

DENVER (AP)—Police dogs routed Cassius Clay from in front of Sonny Liston's home early today as the heavyweight challenger shouted at the champion and honked the horn of his bus. Seven police cars surrounded Clay's bus decorated with such slogans as "Sonny Liston will go in eight."

In the doorway of his home, Liston watched with out any show of emotion.

A big police dog was within inches of Clay as the No. 1 contender was told to "move on right away or be taken in." Clay left promptly.

Liston and Clay were due to sign here this afternoon for a title bout.

The decks were cleared Monday for the two fighters to sign contracts today for a bout, probably in February at a site to be named later.

The announcement of today's signing ceremony came from Liston's press representative, Milt Willner, restaurant owner and part-time fight promoter.

Las Vegas has been mentioned as a possible site for the Clay-Liston battle. So have Los Angeles, Chicago, Boston, Atlantic City and Minneapolis.

Las Vegas backers put in a $500,000 guaranteed gate bid late Monday for the proposed fight.

Charles J. Rich, executive vice-president of one of the big Strip hotels, The Dunes, wired the offer to Liston's adviser, Jack Nilon.

Cougars Acquire New Claws

Bob Buie and Bob Cherry, one-time rivals on the ice lanes who were brought together by Montreal Canadiens, are scheduled to become teammates Wednesday.

Buie, speed-skating winger with Victoria Cougars, and Cherry, a 16-year-old who scored 24 goals and 37 assists in 30 games with Nanaimo Juniors last season, were the only B.C. youngsters invited to a special Canadians' "look-see" camp about two months ago.

Both impressed Del Wilson of Regina and Montreal's chief Western Canada scout hopes to invite the pair to additional camps next season. Both will have three more years of junior eligibility remaining after the present campaign.

Today, Cougars' coach Johnny Bond announced that Cherry and Jeff Wilkins, another Nanaimo sharpshooter, will line up with Buie and the Victoria team.

Powerful Display Puts Bays in Final

Esquimalt Side Shut Out 5-0

Shades of 1962 will hang over Royal Athletic Park Friday night when Victoria High and Oak Bay collide for the city high school soccer championship.

Vic High won the battle of the giants a year ago, tripping the hoisterous Bays 3-2. Before that, it was Vic High in the winner's circle also, 3-2 conquerors of Mount View.

Claremont and Esquimalt took a strong run at the finalists this year but Oak Bay had the answers when they needed them. They needed them Monday.

Aware that a loss to Esquimalt could create a three-way snarl for second place, Oak Bay erased the possibility by coming up with a fine 5-0 victory.

BIRCH BUSY

Credit this one to Howie Anderson. Throw in large assists to Peter Rochford and Bruce Wallace. And shed a tear for Barry Birch, Esquimalt's over-worked goaltender.

Birch had to face an Oak Bay team which has rarely moved the ball more crisply or shot more accurately.

Inside forward Anderson was the biggest thorn in Birch's hide, scoring Bays' first, second and last goals. Rochford and Wallace chipped in the others.

Anderson banged a cross into the net to get things humming, came back 10 minutes later to send a 20-foot scorcher past the helpless Birch.

3-4 AT HALF

Maintaining their torrid pace, Bays made it 3-0 before the half when Rochford took a pass from Greg Pearson and made no mistake from close in.

Esquimalt dug in after the breather but couldn't hit the target. Tom Agery had an open net but missed. Ken Squire was all alone after a breakaway but aimed wide.

This flurry stirred the Bays into action again. Wallace rifled a 35-footer on which Birch had no chance. And Anderson added the final touch, a dribbler which went through Birch's legs.

In the only other game played Mount View and Mount Douglas went to a scoreless draw.

"Vic brings us back to Friday night. Oak Bay finished two points behind Vic High in regular play. But that classic win Monday could give the Bays a real lift... and make them hard to beat for the marbles."

VANCOUVER (CP)—Vancouver YMCA built a steadily mounting lead Monday night on their way to a 75-57 Inter-City Junior Basketball League victory over New Westminster Adanacs.

YMCA led 33-28 at the half and jumped quickly into a lead of about a dozen points, holding it until the final minutes when they pulled ahead even further.

Scorers: Adanacs—Sparks 18, Polson 14, Shaw 10, Taylor 8, Baker 4, Prentiss 2, MacLean 2.

ON HANDICAP RATING

Ladies' Golf Union Adopts New System

Canada's women golfers will use the less complicated and more judicious handicap system of the Royal Canadian Golf Association in 1964.

The Canadian Ladies' Golf Union announced today that abandonment of the present handicap system is the result of a two-year survey of CLGU members. The decision to change was unanimous following submission of the findings of the national executive.

Complaint over the current handicap system is that it was never revised upward except at the beginning of the year and could be lowered during a tournament if a player had a lower opening round than her normal handicap rating.

A players' handicap was based on the five best scores from the previous year and the only change that would be made was in the event a player shot an unusually good round and thus had to accept a lower handicap.

Under RCGA rules, a handicap is based on the best 10 scores of the last 25 games played and can fluctuate up or down, depending on the calibre of a player's golf from one month to the next.

Mantle Involved In Bankruptcy Suit

DALLAS (AP)—A trustee of the bankrupt Mickey Mantle Enterprises Incorporated filed suit here Monday against the New York baseball star, asking that he pay some $200,000 into the bankruptcy corporation.

The suit charged Mantle diverted money he earned from non-baseball activities, including endorsements, to his own use, when these funds should have gone to the corporation.

The suit filed by Philip I. Palmer Jr., trustee for the corporation which was declared bankrupt in August, 1962, says

Mantle assigned exclusive rights for use of his name in endorsements and radio and television appearances, and other activities exclusive of his baseball career—to the corporation in June, 1956.

In exchange, he received 90 per cent of the capital stock of the corporation. In July, 1960, Mantle sold his 90 per cent stock ownership to the Aurora Trading Corporation for $90,000.

Since then, the suit charged, Mantle has "diverted or caused to be diverted to his personal use and benefit" income from a number of activities.

From Top of Pile To Ninth Place ...

MIAMI BEACH (AP)—Former heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson was listed no better than ninth Monday when the National Boxing Association released its monthly ratings. He was ranked even behind Henry Cooper of England.

Cassius Clay was listed as the No. 1 contender and Eddie Machen, sidelined by mental illness when he was No. 1, was returned to the top 10 in sixth place.

Only one Canadian, Peter Schmidt of Toronto, was in the top 10 in any division—and he just made it as a junior middleweight.

Joey Archer, No. 4 middleweight, was named boxer of the month for October as a result of his win over second-ranked Rubin Carter.

Jennings a Governor, So Not Liable to Fine

GORDIE HOWE'S HOCKEY

Studying yourself is a great asset as far as avoiding injuries in hockey is concerned.

Knowing your ability and what limits you have, you'll know if you can get in and out of certain situations and avoid getting hurt.

Again, if you're barreling down the ice and you see a defenceman has figured the angle, has you measured for a stiff check, nobody's going to call you a coward if you throw a little ice or stop and pull out of there.

I've known a few hockey players who were overly cautious to the point where people would get on them because they thought they were afraid of a scared hockey player. I don't believe there is such a thing as a scared hockey player.

It doesn't take any brains at all to run in and get hurt. But if a fellow used his head a little, and was cautious, he could pull up and save himself.

Keeping your head up, which in hockey means keeping an eye on your opponents at all times, is axiomatic in hockey.

It's when you have your head down, watching the puck as you guide it with your stick, that you're most vulnerable to a body check that'll send you sailing, cause you to lose the puck.

Then there's the time when you're trying to pick up a puck as it comes along the boards. You have to look down to make contact with the puck to pick it up on your stick.

That's when if you are alert you can hear somebody barreling down on you. You can actually hear the ice chips as he digs in with his skates as he speeds up to catch up with you and drives to get his full body momentum in the check.

Hearing those ice chips can give you that split-second warning that takes the element of surprise out of the check, enable you to prepare for it.

Riders Try Out Ex-NFL Lineman

REGINA (CP)—Joe Lewis, a 250-pound tackle who is a veteran of six years in the National Football League, is working out with Saskatchewan Roughriders of the Western Football Conference.

Lewis started this season with Philadelphia Eagles.

Roughriders' coach Bob Shaw is looking for yet another American lineman to help him fill holes in his line left by injuries. Roughriders meet Calgary in the first game of the Western Conference semifinals Saturday.

MONTREAL (UPI)—National Hockey League President Clarence Campbell said Monday that New York Rangers President Bill Jennings' charges of incompetency against referee-in-chief Carl Voss were "very serious . . . and obviously not helpful to our game."

Jennings wired Campbell Sunday night calling for the dismissal of Voss. He was so incensed with the officiating of referee Vern Buefy that he teed off on the handling of games in New York in general and on Voss in particular.

A NEW LEVEL
The refereeing in New York has reached a new level of incompetency," he told newsmen immediately after the game, "and we can only attribute this to the chief referee. I'm sick and tired of seeing the Rangers get cheap penalties after falling behind in a game."

A second-period minor penalty to Ranger centre Phil Goyette particularly bothered Jennings. Gilles Tremblay scored to give the Canadiens a 3-2 lead and they were never headed after that.

Ironically, it was the Rangers who were awarded the first penalty shot of the year when Jean Beliveau hauled down Donnie Marshall from behind. Marshall failed to score as goalie Charlie Hodge stopped his 15-footer.

"Apparently he told everybody about it before he informed me. Obviously he didn't extend the courtesy of contacting me first," Campbell said.

INVESTIGATE FURTHER
"What he's saying is very serious," Campbell went on. "I'm not going to give any judgment on it for any purpose until I've fully investigated the matter. But obviously what he's saying is not helpful to the game."

Conduct detrimental to the game is punishable by fine, reprimand or other suitable penalties, but regardless of what Campbell's investigation shows, Jennings will not be liable to a fine.

"After all," Campbell added, "he's the governor. He's one of those who declared their support of the officials and the officiating."

SHAFT FLEX and SWING WEIGHT

THE SELECTING OF A SET OF CLUBS, IN RESPECT TO SWING WEIGHT, LENGTH AND FLEX OF SHAFT, IS LARGELY A MATTER OF PERSONAL PREFERENCE. HOWEVER, WEIGHT AND FLEX MUST HARMONIZE.

A LARGE, STRONG GOLFER MAY WANT A LONGER THAN AVERAGE DRIVER WITH A HEAVIER CLUBHEAD FOR FEEL. HE SHOULD HAVE A STIFFER SHAFT TO COUNTER-BALANCE THE HEAVY HEAD.

ALTHOUGH I AM CONSIDERED A STRONG HITTER, MY DRIVER HAS A VERY LIGHT HEAD (8-1/2) USE AN 8-1/2 SHAFT WHICH IS A LITTLE WHIPPER THAN AN X SHAFT-BUT SINCE MY SWING WEIGHT IS 60 LIGHT, THE SHAFT REACTS LIKE AN X. (MY DRIVER LENGTH IS 45 INCHES, MY SHAFT HEIGHT OF HEAD IS 8-1/2).

A GENERAL RULE OF THUMB WOULD BE: THE HEAVIER YOU SHINE, THE STIFFER THE SHAFT SHOULD BE. AND PERHAPS THE ORDER YOU GET, THE WHIPPER THE SHAFT SHOULD BE TO COMPENSATE FOR THE NATURAL BLOWING DOWN OF THE SHAFT.

Six Past Presidents Probe Esk Situation

EDMONTON (UPI)—Six past presidents of the Western Football Conference Edmonton Eskimos continued their probe of the team this week, without the help of former general manager Al Anderson.

It was rumored last week that Anderson, who took part in a similar probe of the British Columbia Lions in 1961, might be invited to join the committee studying the Eskimos.

Anderson has announced that he will not appear before the board of inquiry.

"I don't feel I have any right to take part in an investigation of the Eskimos," said Anderson.

Eskimo president Hastings (Red) McMahon called for the probe at a monthly meeting of the directors.

CHILDREN SAFE

Mme. Nhu May Live in U.S.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — An aide says Mme. Ngo Dinh Nhu, heartened by a number of sympathetic messages from Americans, is considering returning to the United States after a reunion with her three younger children in Rome.

Mrs. Nhu, originally scheduled to leave today for Rome, postponed her trip 24 hours in order to receive telephonic assurances that her younger children are in Rome before she leaves the United States.

The children, aged 15, 11 and 4, arrived in Rome today and were greeted by Mrs. Nhu's brother-in-law, Archbishop Ngo Dinh Thuc, who is attending the Vatican ecumenical council.

They were flown to Thailand Monday night aboard a U.S. Air Force plane and transferred to a commercial airliner for Rome.

More than 3,000 telegrams and messages have poured into Mme. Nhu's hotel suite since the military coup that overthrew the regime of her brother-in-law Ngo Dinh Diem Friday, the aide said.

Most of the messages were sympathetic, he added.

LOSES HUSBAND, BROTHER
Mme. Nhu's husband, Ngo Dinh Nhu, Diem's political adviser, died in the coup with Diem, his brother.

Mme. Nhu was reported to have received a telephone call Monday from Saigon from a man described as "a high ranking Vietnamese general" who told her that her husband and brother-in-law had been "brutally murdered" and that Nhu had been stabbed to death.

Mme. Nhu had one important guest at her suite Monday—her father.

It was the first meeting between Mme. Nhu and Tran Van Chuong, 65, since she arrived in the United States more than three weeks ago.

The father, former Vietnamese ambassador to the U.S., and daughter long had been at odds over authoritarian policies of the Ngo Dinh ruling family. He resigned last August in protest to the family's treatment of Buddhists.

Van Chuong said "there was no need for reconciliation because as soon as I learned the tragic events my heart was very near my daughter."

With Mme. Nhu in Los Angeles is her eldest daughter, Le Thuy, 18.

'... Men Drawn Together by One Thing: Their Interest in People'

By REV. DR. HARRY K. JOHNSTON
Vice-President, Religion-Labour Council of Victoria

A few men meet once each month at a supper meeting. They usually begin about 6 p.m. They are all fairly busy folk and so they try to break up about 8 p.m. and from there most of them go to other appointments.

This supper meeting is not just another club . . . it is not organized as a club. Rather, it is a group of men whose interests are varied as they go about their several duties from day to day. One thing draws them together: they are interested in people; how they live, work and act what they believe in. They are interested in what is going on in social, economic and industrial life.

The purpose of their meeting can be stated as follows:

"To study and seek to define the social implications of man's religious faith in its application to economic and industrial life.

"To emphasize the importance of the religious motivation in every-day work of the world.

"To encourage the formation of local fellowships through which religion, labor, management and other interested groups can interpret their aims and programs to one another and thus promote co-operation on the basis of understanding and good will."

The foregoing is a quotation from The Purpose of the Religion and Labour Council of Canada, with which the Religion-Labour Council of Victoria is affiliated.

The purpose of this council also includes such ventures as the investigation and study of issues as they may arise, and to seek the common good in the proper emphasis on ethical and spiritual values.

The Religion-Labour Council of Victoria is not a large body but, it is representative of a wide field. Among those attending these supper meetings are men from various labor organizations in the city. There are clergymen from Catholic and Protestant churches; there are men from business and professional life. Those attending are not "official" representatives of any body of opinion, but they are all concerned with the necessity of co-operation in an area of common interest. They do take seriously the moral and ethical problems that confront all men in economic and industrial life.

They believe that religion has something to say to people whether they are workers or management, or in business or professional life, and so they meet and talk about these things.

Arthur Mayse

This corner has been discriminated against by both management and labor, and if the jack-hammer boys weren't making such a hellish din as they knock chunks out of Douglas Street, I'd be down there picketing with an "Unfair" sign on a stick.

As it is, here I sit with the leg-irons chafing, required to sweat out a column while everyone else has a union-guy doubling for him.

It was outrages such as this that stained the workers flag with red, and if organized labor was what it used to be, our guests would join me in my protest.

Not they, though! They're having too much fun being reporters and editors and such.

I'd counted on my friend John Nicol of Retail Food and Drug Clerks union to do my stint, and looked forward to a column in which he would take a round out of my capitalist boss with his big seegar and fur-colored top-coat and all.

But oh no: it seems Mr. Nicol is much too busy being a press photographer, may he shoot all his stuff with the lens cover on.

Well, no use for earth's humble drudges to complain. So even though today the managing editor's blacksnake whip is probably hidden in his bottom drawer with the old racing forms, we'd better tote that load, lift that bale . . .

Mr. Nicol, although he baffles me by preferring to snap a shutter when he could be writing this column, has been giving a lot of thought to an aspect of labor's internal health that worries him.

He feels the union man is letting far too wide a gap develop between his leaders and himself.

"Your organizer," he says, is finding himself in the position of a general 10 miles in front of the army. This isn't the way it should be, and I think labor ought to haul off for a long, hard look at the situation."

Like the family doctor familiar with his patients' every ache and pain; the organizer who knows the man at the lathe or behind the counter by his first name is in danger of fading from the scene.

Following our medical parallel, he is being replaced by the specialist, the operator skilled in certain departments of the labor relations field, but quite out of touch with the homelier aches and pains of his people.

The specialist is essential, a fact which neither John Nicol nor I would argue.

But the general practitioner is needed still; not every belly-ache demands major surgery, and organized labor is bound to suffer should it lose its own version of the family doctor.

One result of the shift from GP to specialist is that the union man isn't really very interested in his union as long as his take-home pay is satisfactory. He pays his dues, attends enough meetings to escape a fine, and gives the experts at the top carte blanche to think as well as act for him.

Responsible labor chiefs hate to see this apathy deepening. Practically all of them came up the hard way. They know that our unions in their earlier years stayed afloat only because each member was deeply and personally committed.

Those men maintained solidarity and purpose under prolonged fire.

If the need arose, would card-holders of the new breed—grooved into a philosophy of "Let George do it, that's what he's paid for"—have the stamina to meet a challenge?

John Nicol points to another offshoot ill that has plagued organizer labor increasingly since the union man began to put distance between himself and his leader.

"Let a climate of indifference become established," he warns bluntly, "and you prepare the way for a Beck or a Banks."

GOLDEN OPPORTUNITY GONE

Greater Victoria water board was relieved of one weird worry regarding its five-mile Japan Gulch tunnel project today.

If it strikes gold or other precious metals while boring out the seven-foot-diameter hole, nobody will be able to bust in to mine the lode.

The board referred the problem to the provincial government and a commissioner Ronald Upward today reported an order-in-council has been issued prohibiting anyone from registering a claim or doing any mining for 200 feet on either side of the tunnel route, running from Sooke Lake to Goldstream.

Cost Asked On Covering Bowker Creek

By BILL GAULD
Vancouver Island Representative of the Canadian Labour Congress

City works committee today asked for an up-to-date report and cost estimates on covering portions of Bowker Creek.

Subject arose from a 292-name petition of residents in the Doncaster area who asked that the six-block length of Bowker Creek, between North Dairy and Hillside, be enclosed.

City engineer James Garnett said the city has spent considerable money on flood control measures in the area and carrying out the work petitioned for would cost a further $150,000 to $170,000. He said there were hazards to children and odor problems still existing.

THIN MAN FUMBLES FAT CHANCE

A thin man made an unsuccessful attempt to crack the safe at Gibson's Shopping Centre in Sooke overnight Monday.

RCMP Corporal Lew Dempsey said the burglar must have crawled through a ventilator shaft, 14 inches in diameter, to get into the store.

Once inside he took tools from a store rack and tried to peel the metal covering from the safe. The tough metal hide of the safe foiled the attempt.

The frustrated burglar took $20 in cash from the office, some cigarettes, and left before the break-in was discovered at 7 this morning.

Meeting Called On Lake Dispute

House Fire Follows Death of Husband

An Oak Bay woman, who lost her husband in a traffic accident four months ago, lost everything she owned in a fire Monday night.

Said Mrs. Frances Furbank as she surveyed the smouldering ruin of her home at 2421 Mowatt: "We've had such a lot of trouble. Will it never end?"

Mrs. Furbank's husband Clifford died of injuries received in an accident July 3 at Fort and Cook. The couple came to live in Canada from England five years ago.

Mrs. Furbank left her home about 6:30 Monday evening to visit her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Foster, 146 Cadillac.

About 11 o'clock she got a telephone call from a neighbor that her house was burning down. By the time she got there the house was gutted.

Mrs. Furbank said house and contents were insured but many of her possessions, brought here from England, were irreplaceable.

Oak Bay Fire Chief William Pearson said the fire likely was started by a smouldering cigarette in an upholstered chair.

The blaze was first spotted by Wallace Hayward, 2413 Mowatt, who saw smoke coming from the house. By the time he arrived on the scene the windows were beginning to pop out from the intense heat.

Public Invited To Air Opinions

Saanich council called Monday evening for a public meeting to air the Prospect Lake pollution problem.

Municipal clerk Gordon Hayward said today that a date has not yet been set, but the meeting will be held within the next two weeks.

Council ordered the meeting after Reeve Stanley Murphy told councillors that council can do nothing about the situation unless residents of the area present a local improvement petition requesting that city water be piped in.

The matter had been referred to council sitting as a board of health by Saanich's health and welfare committee.

The committee Oct. 28 received a report from chief inspector D. W. R. Smith saying that the lake water is unfit to drink, and that the lake will be too polluted for recreational use unless action is taken.

Residents around the lake were warned in May by the Greater Victoria board of health that they should boil any lake water used for drinking.

The committee referred the report to council without action or recommendation.

Reeve Murphy told councillors that Saanich "cannot order the water to be piped in"—recommended in Mr. Smith's report as the only solution.

"We can sympathize with the problem," he said, "but if the people want city water, they can present a local improvement petition."

"We simply do not have the power to order water in."

He indicated the council could do nothing further until the residents act, and was queried by Coun. Joseph Casey.

"What else can we do," asked the reeve, "deplete the situation?"

"That's right," said Coun. Casey.

"Then let's all deplore it now and get it over with," said the reeve.

Coun. Leslie Passmore moved that a public meeting be held at which anyone who considered himself affected could voice his views.

UVIC SERVICE STATION

Work Could Stop If Payment Made

An Oak Bay council request to delay service station construction at the university entrance carries no weight with Standard Oil Co., a company spokesman said today.

James Brown, district representative for Standard Oil, said construction continues despite a ratepayer's protest heard by Oak Bay council Monday night.

Council passed along the request made in a brief from University District Ratepayers' Association which protests commercial development in the area. The oil firm is building at Cedar Hill Cross Road and Henderson Road.

Mr. Brown said, "The request is in fact not from council but from the taxpayers. It doesn't mean a thing as far as Oak Bay council is concerned."

"Standard Oil are quite willing to halt construction if compensation for their investment is made—they are not that adamant to have a service station in that area, Mr. Brown said."

About 75 residents jammed the council chamber for two zoning matters.

Most backed presentation of a brief by Dr. J. F. Higgins, who pointed out that rezoning of commercial land in the area was requested as early as August, 1961.

Other residents petitioned against commercialization in a brief last spring.

Land had been zoned commercially the year previous at request of the owner, Hudson's Bay Co.

No further organized protest was made until this fall, when Slegg Bros. Construction began clearing the site for the residential-style service station.

Council agreed Monday to ask the oil firm for a "reasonable delay," pointing out that this was passing along the ratepayers' request.

When Standard Oil bought the land from HBC in May, 1962, it was not aware of animosity, Mr. Brown said.

SIX MONTHS

The firm negotiated for six months with council before a building plan was approved.

Standard had been willing to stop construction for six months provided council agreed to renew a building permit at the end of that time.

Without such assurance, the company went ahead with the building.

Reeve George Murdoch said that during negotiations with HBC, the firm insisted on commercial zoning in that area.

Ratepayers' president P. D. Bragg said today he hopes for early re-negotiation of the whole matter.

The association feels Oak Bay and HBC could have re-negotiated before this to return the commercial land to residential use.

Mr. Bragg said despite the 1961 request for rezoning, "only now has council acknowledged that such a request has been made."

An alternative course of action suggested by the association is expropriation of the land by Oak Bay, with compensation to Standard Oil.

Coun. Allan Cox asked: "Can we, in the interest of the whole municipality, afford to expropriate this property which would amount to a cost of two mills to the taxpayer?"

TOPICS of the DAY

A concert party, with dancing and refreshments, will form part of the entertainment at a League of Roses meeting Thursday.

The meeting will begin at 8 p.m. in the Woodsworth Hotel, 721 Courtney Street.

Saanich council decided Monday night not to mix garbage and money.

A proposed referendum on weekly garbage collection was set aside after several council members said they thought it might interfere with a municipal hall money referendum planned for the December municipal election.

A hungry thief entered the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Altwies, 1341 Morrison, sometime Monday morning and stole a ham from the fridge.

He then ransacked the house and took away a transistor radio valued at about $50.

The prowler gained entry by breaking glass in a basement door and unlatching it.

Tentative civic voters' list will be posted next week at the temporary City Hall in Bastion Square, city clerk Frank Hunter said Monday.

Anyone uncertain whether they have been included can check the list from Nov. 15 and if desiring to make an appeal can appear before the court of revision at 10 a.m. Nov. 20 in the council chamber.

The corrected list will be posted Nov. 29. Nomination day will be Dec. 5 and balloting will be held Dec. 12.

Following strong public protest against a rezoning bylaw made at Oak Bay council Monday night, Coun. Fred Robinson proposed that council not proceed with the rezoning of the retail area at St. Patrick and Central back to residential use.

An application had been made for construction of a two-storey apartment building and one store on the designated corner.

The Society of Friends has just reported the despatch of another 30 sacks of clothing, bedding and footwear to a British welfare agency.

The sacks went to OXFAM (Oxford Committee for World Relief) for distribution among people throughout the world.

The Society of Friends is now preparing a further consignment.

They have been collecting clothes for about 15 years in Victoria. A shipping company freights the goods free of charge, and shipments are sent as soon as they are big enough.

Donations to Friends' meeting house, 1831 Fern Street

A 75-year-old woman pedestrian received a broken arm after being in collision with a car at Oswego and Belleville at 8 this morning.

Mrs. E. B. Harrison, 372 Belleville, is reported to be in fairly good condition at St. Joseph's Hospital. Driver of the car involved was Donald Malcolm, 1023 Cadedonia.

FIVE-YEAR PLAN

"Well nobody would deny this is a highly desirable project but it's a matter of policy," said Mayor R. B. Wilson.

"I wonder if we couldn't get an up-to-date report and cost estimate for the work."

"Perhaps we could do it on a five-year plan basis," said the mayor.

DRIVE CLIMBS SLOWLY TOWARDS 75% LEVEL

The United Appeal fund is climbing slowly towards its 75 per cent mark, standing now at $287,919.

Ten days from now, Appeal organizers will be faced with the necessity to name a definite closing date for the Appeal.

It is already five days over the original deadline.

The amount still to be raised to ensure adequate aid to the 24 member welfare agencies is $112,081.

B.C. Trade Unions Have 'Boss' Status

By TOM SMITH
V.I. Representative of Canadian Union of Public Employees

Believe it or not—trade unions are employers.

That's what the Workmen's Compensation Act says, anyway. Because unions employ a certain number of paid officials—secretaries, agents and officers—they must provide coverage for compensation.

Even delegates to conventions who receive remuneration for time lost from their regular jobs must also be covered, according to the provincial legislation.

PENALTIES

If unions fail to provide the necessary coverage they may be penalized in accordance with the act.

The act provides for $90 per month compensation to a widow and three-quarters salary to an employee who is totally disabled.

It could be unfortunate, particularly in the case of small unions, if they were compelled by the act to meet a financial obligation which required an increase in union dues beyond all reasonable proportion.

SHOPPING GUIDE

Car Drivers Should Use These—And Reindeer Too!

By PENNY SAVER

Judging by the number of accidents that unhappily seem to be on the increase, Santa had better give his reindeer a refresher course before they set out on the skyways next month.

You can help ward off accidents for your family or friends by presenting them with a Christmas present, designed to avoid pile-ups on the highway, when, for some reason, the family car goes out of commission.

This is an automatic blinker. It has a special bracket that allows the driver to attach it to a car window or antenna. Plugged into a 12-volt car cigarette lighter, the red bulb that tops it will keep up an automatic blinking for as many as 500 hours. Not that any unfortunate driver would ever be stranded that long...I hope!

Also attached is a prominent white flag, presumably for use in daylight hours. For $4.95, you can give hubby or friends a much higher proportion of safety on the roads.

Now, here's a gift suggestion for that gal on your list who's always switching handbags—usually just a second or two before she has to dash for the bus!

Newly arrived in town is a gimmick called a handbag organizer. This is exactly what it is because it's a bag of soft, washable plastic that has seven roomy compartments in which to store car keys, money, cosmetics and other necessities. Whip it out, pop it into another bag, and you're all set for the office or that all-important date.

Designed to simulate alligator, the bags come in black, white, red or blue and sell at 69 cents.

DEAR ABBY...

It May Be BETTER This Way!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: When the Dodgers won the Series, my father was so mad he kicked in our television set and now it isn't working. He has a terrible temper and he curses us kids out in a foreign language so loud everybody on the block can hear him. I said to him, "Pa, if you're going to yell at us in front of the whole neighborhood, why don't you learn English?" For this he smacked me right in the mouth. Do you think he had a right to do that?

ANGELO
DEAR ANGELO: He had a "right"—but he was wrong. If I have your pa pegged, I think you're lucky he didn't say what he said in English.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a ten-year-old girl wearing nylon stockings and a garter belt? My fifth grader tells me that I'm "old-fashioned" because I tell her she's too young for them. About eight in her class have them. I refuse to budge. Am I wrong?

OLD-FASHIONED
DEAR OLD-FASHIONED: Not And don't let her wear you down with that old saw—"But mother—all the other girls do."

DEAR ABBY: I feel I must respond to "Nothing Up My Sleeve," who is 44, handsome, and will marry any woman with money regardless of her age or what she looks like. I am an English woman who was married to this type for 22 years. I finally divorced him and came to your country to start a new life. Doesn't this handsome bloke realize that a woman with money doesn't need to marry for company? She can buy all she wants. I plan to return to England next spring. It's a pity that man is so attractive. I'm seeking a permanent partner who is elderly, bald-headed and seldom gets a second glance—one I won't have to share with the whole universe. Sincerely, "D" FROM LIVERPOOL

CONFIDENTIAL to HORRIFIED: Don't believe all the wild rumors you hear about high school students. I refer to the number of marriages, pregnancies among unmarried girls, the drinking orgies, dope addictions,

LOW BACK PAIN

Is it hard for you to sit down, even harder to get up from a chair because of low back pain? Does this pain make work difficult, keep you from turning over in bed? This nagging, wearisome pain keeps thousands in misery. But here is good news for all such sufferers. Templeton's TRC's give the desired relief from such suffering quickly, pleasantly. Equally good for lumbago, back-ache, sciatica, leg pains, arthritic, rheumatic and neuritic pain. Get T-R-C's for fast relief. 85c, $1.65 at drug counters everywhere.

For same fast relief, use Templeton's FLAME-Cream Liniment in the roll-up/bottle externally, while taking T-R-C's internally. FLAME-Cream, $1.25 at drug counters everywhere. T-49-11

Still active in union affairs she is now the secretary for the Sprinkler Fitters Union in San Francisco.

With Cousins

Mrs. G. I. Wallman arrived on Sunday from Winnipeg, where she has been visiting friends. She will spend an extended holiday at the Westdowne Road home of her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Dryden. The visitor has spent the past eight months travelling and will return to her home in Los Angeles, Calif., on completion of her Victoria visit.

Twins Baptized

The two-month-old twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. James M. Stewart of Campbell River were recently baptized at a ceremony in that city's St. Peter's Anglican Church. Rev. Trevor Williams officiated. The babies were given the names Helen Joan and Heather Jane. Their godparents are Mr. and Mrs. Terrance Temple and Miss Margaret Flock Heart. Maternal grandparents of the little girls are Mrs. Ernest Noel, 183 Bushby Street, and the late Mr. Noel.

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Eckford, 1990 Cromwell Road, have announced the forthcoming marriage of their youngest daughter, Judith Dawn, to Mr. Tom Harper, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Harper, 2815 Inlet Avenue. The wedding will take place on Saturday, at 7.30 p.m., in St. Aidan's United Church with Rev. A. C. MacLeod officiating. (Jus-Rite Photo).

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Substitute Diet Foods If They're In Same Category

Many women have difficulty with their lunches when dieting. However, this hazard can be overcome whether the woman works in an office or at home. I always thought that the woman at home has an easier time of it, but I have a note before me from a reader which says, "I have wanted to start your 9-Day Reducing Diet for so long but somehow the lunches throw me for a loss. Where is a housewife going to get a slice of lamb roast or other such meat as beef or a piece of chicken for lunch? Can you fix the noon meal a little simpler?"

If you are at home for lunch you can slice off and save several pieces of beef roast or lamb roast for your lunches when you have one for the family. Wrap these in one of the aluminum foils. You can do the same thing with chicken. Cut off a few slices when you have a baked hen and wrap these slices also. You can substitute meat on my 9-Day Diet so long as it belongs to the same category. For instance, you cannot substitute cold cuts for beef or seafood or chicken. The main ingredients for my 9-Day Reducing Diet (for lunches) are skim milk, fresh fruit, cottage cheese, lean ground round for hamburgers, sliced or canned tomatoes, salad greens and sliced chicken or beef with the fat cut off. There are also celery sticks, carrot sticks and broccoli. You can substitute any green vegetable for broccoli.

It seems to me that lunches should be easy for the woman who eats at home if she will do one thing. She will run into no difficulty if she plans the meals for the family a week at a time, keeping her own needs for her reducing lunches in mind.

Tomorrow I will give suggestions about reducing lunches for the woman who eats at the corner drugstore or takes her lunch to work with her. If you missed my 9-Day Reducing Diet (which gives you a loss of five to 10 pounds in nine days) send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for it, to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

WORKERS OR WIVES

Women Urged to Support Trade Union Movement

When I was asked to take on the assignment of guest editor for the women's pages of this newspaper for a day, I gave a great deal of thought to the subject matter for a main story. Then it came to me—what a wonderful opportunity this was to say a few words to the office workers in the area and to the wives of our union members.

Ritchie

Nine years ago I received my introduction into the trade union movement when I applied for the position of secretary to the International Union of Operating Engineers (stationary and hoist and portable locals). My knowledge of labor unions was practically nonexistent, but I did have experience in office procedures and business routine. Gradually, with the assistance of two business agents I developed an active interest in the organizational pattern of unions. I will always remember my first hectic day at work when a member came in to register. When I inquired as to his job classification he stated he was a "cat skinner."

I was not quite sure whether he was serious. In our attractive new surroundings at Union Centre, the office staff for the trade union offices includes six women and one man. There are also two women employed at Boilermakers' Hall in Esquimalt. The nine of us are members of the Office Employees' International Union and enjoy our own collective agreement with the trade union offices.

Our organization is strictly a union of men and women who are in the white collar field. From its inception, the OEIU has involved itself exclusively with the field of office employment, as a separate entity from industrial employment. In British Columbia it has a membership of just over 2,000 workers. This is a small group compared with the other unions but we are gradually receiving recognition and before too long we expect our membership to grow by leaps and bounds.

Recently one of our locals signed an agreement with the B.C. Hydro and Power Authority which is believed to be the best in Canada with a public utility.

The OEIU has simple goals. Our aim is to assist white collar employees to improve and standardize wages and working conditions for clerical and secretarial work throughout the industry, to achieve shorter hours and gain fringe benefits through collective bargaining.

In the first paragraph of this column I mentioned that I would like to say a few words to the wives of union members. Encourage your husband to attend his union meetings and take an active part in union affairs. I am sure that you will realize that no organization can function effectively without the full support of its members.

The United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America is fortunate in having a ladies' auxiliary. Wives of members meet the third Monday of each month at Union Centre. One of the projects they undertake is to raise funds which are used to supply hampers for Christmas for the needy. This group, small but active, is looking for more members.

Women should not consider that labor unions are solely for men. Labor unions are now an integral part of our social structure.

Hospital Auxiliaries Raise $216,587

At the 19th annual conference of the Auxiliaries' Division of the B.C. Hospitals' Association, held recently in Vancouver, the division president, Mrs. C. W. MacBrey, reported: "We have 5,183 active members, 2,232 associate members and 170 life members. During the past year these auxiliary volunteers have raised $216,587 for our hospitals and spent $198,958 for equipment and patient comforts. A total of 108,500 volunteer hours were spent in varying services for the hospital and patients. Hours given in thrift shops were 23,200; in gift shops or on mobile carts, 23,900 hours and on other services, 5,800 hours."

Party Planned

Women associate members of the Royal Victoria Yacht Club and wives of members will be entertained at a sherry and coffee party in the clubhouse on Wednesday evening from 8 to 9 p.m. Following the social hour, there will be an election of officers for the Women's Auxiliary. Nominations should be phoned to Mrs. J. B. Murray, 383-1485 or Mrs. Peter Young, 477-3235.

Auxiliary Makes $600

Main lounge of Holyrood House was a scene of warmth and gaiety Monday afternoon and evening when a large crowd attended a card party and tea arranged by members of the Victorian Order of Nurses' Auxiliary.

Baskets of bronze and gold chrysanthemums and attractive giant size playing cards displayed on the walls were used to decorate the hall.

A sum of $600 was realized at the successful affair. All proceeds will be used for VON work.

General convener was Mrs. W. E. Parker assisted by Mrs. C. J. Randall. Mrs. E. A. Popham was in charge of tea arrangements and Mrs. W. A. Buchanan convoked the home baking table.

you too, can be a wine expert!

The wine-wise person in today's modern way of life knows that the selection of wine to accompany any food is purely a matter of personal choice.

The idea that the only socially acceptable use of wine is restricted to certain specific wine and food combinations is pure myth.

Matching foods and wines is a matter of taste — not of color — and there is only one simple rule to wine drinking... if you like it — drink it!

Such combinations as in the chart below are an excellent starting point for the fun and pleasure of experimenting to find your own favorite wine/food combinations. However, they should not be considered as rules which must be followed, and even the serving temperatures are subject to personal preference.

GLASSES: Wine may be served in any type of glass, but stem glasses are specially designed for wine and add a touch of gaiety. Champagne and sparkling wines are best, and most fun, when served in champagne-type, hollow stemmed glasses.

STORAGE: Store your wines in a cool, dry place, away from direct light. You'll find it convenient and satisfying to keep several types of wine on hand.

Flop Feared In Chum Run

VANCOUVER (CP)—British Columbia fishermen who already have experienced one of the poorest years on record—partly due to a midsummer strike—now face imminent failure of the autumn chum salmon run.

Fisheries officials said Monday the escapement of Chums to the river spawning grounds totals only 15,000 fish so far, compared with an estimated total stock in 1955 of 500,000.

In the last two weeks the average daily number of Chum migrants has been only 2,000 fish. This has led the fisheries department to ban all commercial fishing for Chum this week.

'Commando' Plan Called Bold Step

VANCOUVER (UPI)—Executive director William McGrath of the Canadian Corrections' Association said Monday a new "commando camp" on Vancouver Island is a bold step forward in prison reform.

But he did not know if the plan would succeed. The camp, near Campbell River, was set up to provide prisoners with commando-type training designed to develop iron muscles and clear heads, and to train them as shock troops for forest fires and searches for hunters and woodmen.

IMAGINATIVE

Mr. McGrath described the new camp as a product of an imaginative prison system.

"The aim of the provincial government's Lakeview Camp is to give the tough prisoners a chance to develop a sense of responsibility to the community they hate," Mr. McGrath said.

"I can't say now whether or not it's going to work but it is indicative of the atmosphere of experimentation and adventure in which prison officials in British Columbia work."

Lumber Exports Increase

CHEMUNUS—Lumber exports from the ports of Chemunus and Crofton amounted to 17,277,796 board feet last month, a total of over 2,000,000 board feet more than the October, 1962, total of 14,984,876 board feet.

During the month of September of this year, 11,054,000 board feet was exported.

Importers for October were: United Kingdom, 5,602,308 board feet; United States, 5,117,488 board feet; Japan, 3,420,000 board feet; Australia, 1,194,000 board feet; Portuguese East Africa, 1,185,000 board feet, and South Africa, 739,000 board feet.

Jet Hits Village

PRIVAS, France (AP)—A French Air Force jet crashed in the centre of Jaujac village Tuesday. One villager was killed and two are missing. The two airmen parachuted safely. The plane wrecked several houses and started a fire which was quickly extinguished. Jaujac, which has 500 inhabitants, is in southeastern France.

DUNCAN BRIEFS

Open House At School

DUNCAN—School trustees of District 65 have been invited to an open house and conducted tour of the new classrooms and gymnasium of Maple Bay Elementary School on Nov. 12, starting at 7:30 p.m.

The program is sponsored by the Maple Bay P.T.A. It includes a talk by Mrs. Ronald Southern. She will speak on school curriculum.

Rev. Sam Jenkins, a former Communist and professional boxer, will speak at the Gospel Lighthouse, Lake Cowichan, on Tuesday, Nov. 12.

It's his first appearance on Vancouver Island.

A minister of the Pentecostal Assemblies of Canada, Mr. Jenkins for 17 years was a trade union leader. He is also an ex-logger, dock worker and shipyard employee.

John Fumston of the B.C. motor vehicle branch will speak at a Duncan Kiwanis meeting on Wednesday.

The club will also discuss plans for a district hall conference to be held at the Tzouhalem Hotel Dec. 1.

Miss Norah C. Denny and Miss Dorothy R. Geoghegan, former co-headmistresses of Queen Margaret's School, will be guests of honor as freemen of the city of Duncan at a city hall reception on Thursday, Nov. 14, starting at 7:30 p.m.

The two women founded Queen Margaret's School in the early 1920s. When they retired this year, they were given freedom of the city at a ceremony in June.

Funeral services will be held at Hirst funeral chapel Wednesday for Charlotte McGregor MacGregor, a former public health nurse, who died at Lake View Manor, Maple Bay Road, Sunday. She was 87 years old. Born at Kempe, Ont., she had been a Duncan resident for the past 56 years. She was active in the W.A. of St. John's Anglican Church.

Indian Children In 4-H

DUNCAN — Six Indian children from the Cowichan band will be admitted into a new 4-H Beef Club here tonight.

The organizational meeting will be held in the board room of the Cowichan Exhibition starting at 8 p.m.

The training of young Indians in 4-H work has the backing of the Cowichan band and the department of Indian affairs, both seeking to make farming more popular among Indians.

The department has agreed to pay for the calves to help the youngsters participate in club activities and to assist in a 20-acre land clearing project on the Quamichan Reserve.

Simon Charlie of Quamichan, a member of the farm development committee of the Cowichan band, said for the past 10 years he has tried to form a beef club.

The six who will join the 4-H club are: Reggie and Vernon Modeste, 12 and 14; Doris Joe, 11, and Peter, Violet and Vivian Charlie, 14, 12 and 11.

If you have a bad memory—here's why

Why do you sometimes forget what happened yesterday, but easily recall events of years ago? This mystery has baffled scientists for years—but now we're finding out how the memory process of our brains works. Read some of the answers (and perhaps pick up a tip to help your own memory) in "How We Remember, Why We Forget"—in November Reader's Digest. Get your copy today.

1.4 MILLION TREES READY FOR PLANTING

NANAIMO—Preparations are under way to plant about 1,400,000 Douglas fir seedlings on Vancouver Island this fall and next spring, Crown Zellerbach Co. officials said today.

The two-year-old seedlings will be planted in previously logged areas at Nitinat, Ladysmith and Courtenay.

It takes a long time to break an old habit. 60 seconds.

You know what you like in whiskies. You've probably been living with the one kind for five, ten, maybe twenty years. All we ask is one minute.

We think that's all it will take to change your mind. That, and merely one taste of a whisky called Time.

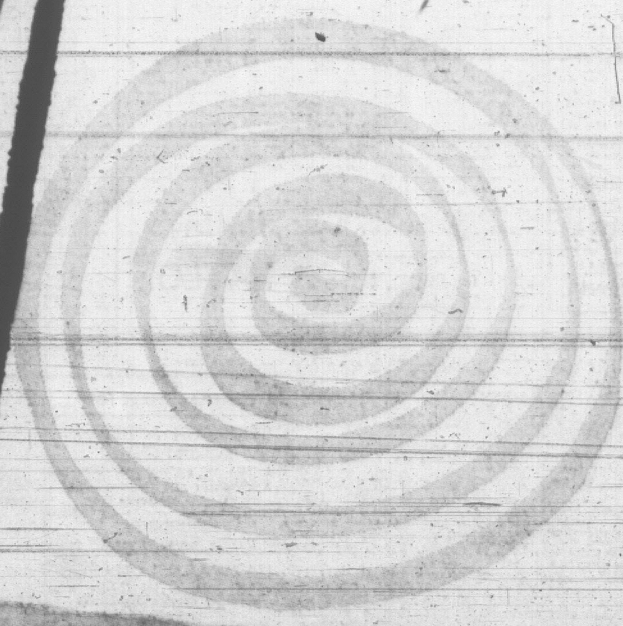

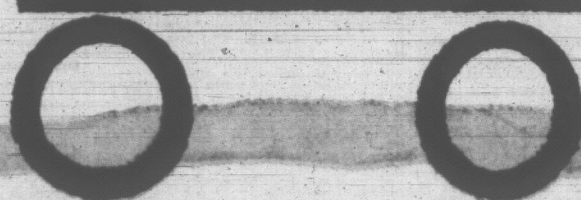

You'll find you have never known a rye like this. The taste is light, warm, smooth. A gentle whisky—but not at all kind to old habits.

It gives you a lot to think about for 60 seconds.

Time enough.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

Sealed tenders marked "Tender for Beach School Activity Room" are invited by the Board of School Trustees for the construction of an activity room to the Beach Elementary School. The completion date of this project is to be January 31st, 1964.

Working drawings, specifications, instructions to bidders and form of tender may be obtained by general contractors only from the school board office, James Street, Duncan, on payment of a deposit of Twenty-Five Dollars ($25.00) for each set of working drawings and specifications which will be returned on receipt of said documents in good condition.

A certified cheque in the amount of 10 per cent of the contract price, or a bid bond in the amount of 10 per cent of the contract price, must accompany all tenders. A surety bond to bind the tenderer in the amount of 10 per cent of the contract price must be provided within ten days of a contract being accepted. This bond shall be approved by and acceptable to the owner and made out to School District No. 65 (Cowichan) as owner.

If the tenderer defaults in executing the contract within six (6) days following notification in writing of the award of the contract then said certified cheque will become the property of the Board of School Trustees, School District No. 65 (Cowichan).

Tenders must be in the hands of the undersigned by 3:30 p.m., Thursday, November 14th, 1963. The lowest or any tender will not necessarily be accepted and the Board of School Trustees reserves the right to reject any or all tenders without explanation. No tender will be considered having any qualifying clauses whatsoever.

G. E. DYSON, Secretary-Treasurer, School District No. 65 (Cowichan), Box 180, Duncan, B.C.

EX-MAID ARRESTED AFTER $16,000 THEFT

CALGARY (CP)—Police arrested a former Calgary woman Monday in the theft of $16,000 in jewelry and other valuables from her Vancouver employer. Businessman Sid Young said his maid disappeared Saturday after his house was ransacked.

Police recovered most of the missing property following the arrest of Linda Moss, also known as Kay Baker.

Meanwhile, the woman pleaded not guilty to theft of money and a bus and steamship ticket and obtaining lodgings by fraud, two Calgary offences from last year.

Indians 'Squeezed' From Fish Industry

VANCOUVER (CP)—Increasing competition is forcing British Columbia Indians out of the fishing industry, says Guy Williams, president of the Native Brotherhood of B.C.

In an interview, Mr. Williams said only about 2,200 commercial fishing licences are held today by members of

MPs Urged To Back Pension Plan

The B.C. Federation of Labour has urged all MPs in the province to give full support to the Canada pension plan.

Federation secretary-treasurer E. P. O'Neal said in a circular letter: "We urge your support to have the measure passed by the Commons as quickly as possible."

The government Monday shelved the pension plan until the next session of Parliament.

Mr. O'Neal said the support of organized labor in B.C. would be recommended at the 8th annual convention.

GOOD STEF

He said: "It is not perfect, but it is a step in the right direction."

Mr. O'Neal said private insurance interests had long held a favored position in providing "security-for-profit" in Canada.

"They feel their position is being threatened," he said.

"The plan includes more people and is more flexible than private plans. Therefore, rates of contributions can be lower and rates of benefits higher."

Up-Island Teachers Settle

LADYSMITH—Tentative agreement has been reached between representatives of the B.C. School Trustees' Association and the B.C. Teachers Federation on a new 1964 salary scale for teachers on upper Vancouver Island.

Joint teachers salaries negotiations' chairman Alex Smith said a settlement was reached at Nanaimo Friday.

The settlement recommendations will be referred to the different school boards and teachers' groups for ratification.

(Involves all school teachers and boards on Vancouver Island except Greater Victoria.)

No figures were mentioned at this stage nor any indication of whether or not increases would be forthcoming.

SOVIET BOATS NEAR U.K. NAVAL BASE

LONDON (UPI)—The British Admiralty said Monday an investigation was under way into the presence during the weekend of two Soviet trawlers outside the top-secret naval base at Portland.

The two vessels anchored within a quarter of a mile of the base on Sunday and one report said, a small launch carried a package from one to the other.

A spokesman at Portland, a heavily guarded base on the south coast where secret underwater weapons research is carried out, identified the Russian trawlers as the Olone and Muksun.

One of Britain's latest guided missile destroyers, the Hampshire, and four ships carried out exercises in the Portland vicinity during the weekend.

Soviet trawlers are generally equipped with the latest electronic gear and often appear at Western naval exercises.

JAN. 15 DEADLINE SET FOR MOVE

Auto Firm Given Reprieve

A Douglas Street auto wrecking firm won another reprieve from Saanich council Monday night.

Clarke's Auto and Truck Parts Ltd., 3233 Douglas, has been waging a three-month battle to get back its trade license.

The council agreed to restore the license effective from now until Jan. 15.

The wrecking firm operated for four years contrary to Saanich's zoning bylaw, but was given a trade license each year by municipal officials.

This year, the license was cut off.

The wrecking firm sought rezoning to allow it to continue to operate, and was told by council it could use the Douglas Street property only for the retail sale of parts.

'God's Minstrel' Sings Folk Songs At UVIC Concert

The folk songs of French-Canada Monday night charged the distinctive English-Canadian atmosphere of Victoria.

Composer Pere Bernard, a Franciscan monk, opened French-Canada week at UVIC with an hour-long concert of original folk songs.

Pere Bernard, known as Le Menestrel du Bon Dieu (God's minstrel), is here with others from Quebec for the week's activities.

Student Council president Larry Devlin hopes the week will encourage students to go to Quebec, on an exchange basis.

City Writer's Short Story

A television version of a Victoria writer's prize-winning short story appears Thursday at 10 p.m. on channel five.

It is "A Part of the Bargain," by George Cuomo, University of Victoria English professor, who took second prize with it in the 1963 Esquire-Bantam Books short story contest, for which there were 4,500 entries.

For TV purposes, the story has been retitled "Are There Any More Out There Like You?" starring Robert Ryan.

New York-born Mr. Cuomo has been at the University of Victoria since 1961, teaching American literature and imaginative writing in various forms.

A Part of the Bargain was published in paper back this year along with 14 other winners and honorable mention stories, one of them by Toronto-born Len Carter.

Mr. Cuomo's story deals with the callous, irresponsible attitude of four college friends whose car has accidentally killed a pedestrian a day or two before Christmas.

Last week the Saturday Evening Post published an even of Mr. Cuomo's stories, "Room at the Bottom, Room at the Top."

Teachers Strike

NICOSOA, Cyprus (AP)—Nearly 3,000 Greek Cypriot school teachers went on strike Monday, closing down all Greek primary and secondary schools in Cyprus. More than 100,000 students attend the schools. The teachers went on strike following the government's refusal to grant them pension rights.

Canada Premiere Of Disney Movie

PORT ARTHUR, Ont. (CP)—three family pets that walked 250 miles across Canadian bush to be re-united with their masters. She later sold the movie rights to Mr. Disney.

The premiere was held simultaneously in two theatres side by side with more than 1,000 people in each. Many more lined the streets for blocks.

Actor Tommy Tweed and actress Sandra Scott, who star in the movie with the dogs and cats who portray the family pets, attended the premiere.

The movie is directed by Fletcher Markle, formerly a director with the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation. It was filmed in rugged terrain resembling northern Ontario.

Canadians acting the movie include singer Jan Rubes, who portrays a Finnish farmer; veteran actor John Draine and Emilie Genest, now of Hollywood.

Mrs. Burnford, wife of Dr. David Burnford, was applauded as she entered one of two theatres where the movie was being shown for the first time.

Mrs. Burnford won the Canadian Library Association's 1962 medal for the best children's book in English for her story of

MOVIE REVIEW

By BOB MILLIKEN

Guest movie columnist today in place of Times staffer Norman Cribbens is Robert Milliken, secretary-treasurer of the General Teamsters' Union, Victoria Local 885.

As a labor representative giving a review of movies today, I think movies have come back into their own, in face of TV competition, over the past few years.

Moving pictures now being presented across the country are technically superior to those produced even as late as the early 1950s.

The discriminating movie-goer has much from which to choose in the way of good movie entertainment.

Acting, photographic effect (an art in itself) and musical backgrounds all have been advanced appreciatively in the last decade.

One has only to think of such widely diverse pictures, as "Days of Wine and Roses," with Jack Lemmon's magnificent performance as an alcoholic; "Cleopatra," with almost indescribable sets and wardrobes, and the beautiful music of "West Side Story."

Broadway musicals, such as "South Pacific," "The King and I," and more latterly "West Side Story," have been successfully reproduced on the screen and have without doubt brought pleasure to many millions of people all over the world.

More Research Urged For Canadian Tourism

MONTREAL (CP)—A Mason, Association. The convention ends Wednesday.

Mich., consultant says large manufacturers wouldn't be able to survive on the kind of data that is available in the tourist field.

"As it is now," Frank W. Suggitt says, "most investments in tourist facilities are made with a hope and a prayer, with no real indication as to the odds for success or failure."

The need for research in the tourist industry highlighted panel discussions at Monday's opening of the 31st annual Convention of the Canadian Tourist

Space Age Musical At Seattle

An unusual musical show will visit Seattle's Opera House for one night, Wednesday, Nov. 13.

Title of the musical is "Space Is So Startling" and it comes to Seattle from successful tours of West Germany and Japan, and performances in London, England, Boston, and other American cities.

The cast of 79 is representative of 17 different countries.

Termed "a musical for the space age," its cast is thronged with astronauts and cosmonauts as well as a multiplicity of other characters out of the 20th century. Rockets hurtle to the moon and capsules return to earth.

Dynamic choruses and choreography enliven this story of the modern age where the astronaut and cosmonaut worlds compete with guile and humor in a race for space.

Written by Peter and Anthony Howard, it is vivid entertainment but offers, nevertheless, a formula for sanity in the space age.

Tickets may be obtained from the Bon Marche Ticket Office, 4th and Pine Seattle.

If a sufficient number of Victorians are interested in attending, arrangements for special group transportation may be made.

$3 Million for Canadian

BRAMPTON, Ont. (CP) — Thomas C. Usher, 48, president of Brampton Paint Company, calmly confirmed Monday he had just inherited $3,000,000.

Mr. Usher learned of his inheritance after attending a memorial service for his father, the late Sir. George Usher, in England. Sir George, founder of International Combustion Limited, died Oct. 6 at 73.

Father of four sons and a daughter, Mr. Usher said his brother, Robert of South Africa, will also receive $3,000,000.

The Brampton industrialist said the inheritance was not a complete surprise. "We knew father was well off," he said, but admitted the size of the legacy was unexpected.

B.C. MENTAL HOSPITAL GETS $110,271 GRANT

OTTAWA (UPI)—Health Minister Judy LaMarsh today announced the award of $110,271 grant to the British Columbia mental hospital at Essondale.

The grant will assist in construction of the Hillsdale building, providing 70 new beds for the hospital.

Construction is expected to be completed by May, 1964, bringing the total bed capacity to more than 3,100.

$90 MILLION DEAL FOR CANADIAN WHEAT

OTTAWA (UPI)—Canada and Poland today signed a long-term wheat agreement providing for the sale of some 44 million bushels to the Communist nation over the next three years.

The deal, fifth major grain sale negotiated with the Communist bloc during recent months, will net Canada about $90 million.

Banks Surrenders to RCMP; Appears in Montreal Court

Diem Kin Rebuffed By U.S.

(Times News Services)

SAIGON—Ngo Dinh Can, brother of former president Ngo Dinh Diem and virtual dictator of the central Vietnamese provinces, today asked for asylum at the U.S. consulate at Hue. However, Can was turned over to the South Viet Nam revolutionary authorities.

High sources reported that Can arrived at the U.S. consulate in Hue, 400 miles to the north from Saigon, at about 10:30 p.m. Monday asking for refuge.

U.S. authorities there got in touch with officials of the four-day-old revolutionary government and notified them that Can was at the consulate.

Today, Can was flown in a U.S. military aircraft and turned over to government authorities at Saigon Airport.

U.S. officials were understood to have received assurances from revolutionary officials that Can "would not be lynched and would receive the due process of law."

Can's house has been surrounded by troops since Friday's military coup in Saigon that overthrew the Diem regime and resulted in the deaths of Diem and his powerful brother, Ngo Dinh Nhu.

LOCATE BODIES? Unconfirmed reports circulated in Hue, capital of central Viet Nam, that 180 bodies had been found in a mass grave at Can's mansion there.

Responsible Vietnamese officials said rows of fifty-dungarees were found in an old French arsenal on property owned by Can just south of Hue. Mobs Monday sacked and destroyed a home Can was building there.

Buddhist leaders, students and others in Hue, long have charged that Can ruled his bailiwick as a bloody tyrant.

Foreign observers believed Can probably would be tried by the new government and given either a death sentence or a long prison term.

BANKS
... 1957 case

Freed on Bail In Conspiracy

MONTREAL (CP)—Harold Banks, president of the Seafarers' International Union of Canada (Ind.), was arraigned today on a charge of conspiracy to commit assault in the 1957 beating of Capt. Henry Francis Walsh.

Judge Emile Trottier fixed preliminary hearing for Nov. 12 and set bail at $2,000 cash or $4,000 property.

Defence Counsel Joseph Nuss told the court bail would be posted immediately.

Mr. Nuss said Mr. Banks gave himself up voluntarily to the RCMP earlier today, upon learning that a warrant existed for his arrest and had no thought of avoiding appearance in court.

The whole proceedings took about 20 minutes.

Banks, wearing a hat and light-grey trench coat, strode into the criminal courts building behind Mr. Nuss shortly before 3 p.m. and walked straight to the arraignment court.

He sat in the front row of the spectators' benches, beside an RCMP officer. Judge Trottier entered the courtroom five minutes later.

KNOW OF CHARGE In making the request for bail, Mr. Nuss said the court "must take into account that there has been widespread information in the public media to the effect that a warrant existed, yet the accused did nothing that would lead the court to believe he was making any attempt to evade due process."

Mr. Nuss said Mr. Banks has been a resident of Montreal for the last 15 years, is employed continuously in Montreal and is the owner of an immovable property.

"I should also point out the accused was convicted of an offence in the jurisdiction of California in 1929 but received a pardon from the governor of California in 1950. This offence may be considered, therefore, as not having happened."

Mr. Nuss said it should also be recalled that the present charge "dates back seven years."

The Crown, noting that Banks "submitted voluntarily" to the police, did not oppose the request for bail.

Meanwhile, Justice Minister Chevrier said in the Commons today Banks was arrested on a warrant the RCMP applied for on Oct. 23.

Mr. Chevrier said his recollection is that the warrants for arrest were not issued until after Mr. Banks was in Ottawa Oct. 24 to see the trustees appointed by the government the previous day to operate five maritime unions.

Asked to explain the delay, he said the first concern was to get the striking SIU men back at work. The next concern was to keep them at work and the ships moving with grain.

Mr. Chevrier said that rightly or wrongly he felt he should not attempt to interfere with the duties of the newly-established trusteeship of five maritime unions including the SIU.

"I did not believe it would be good timing."

DENIES CHARGE Mr. Chevrier denied an allegation of Eldon Wooliams (PC—Bow River) that the justice minister misled Parliament in various statements about the charges laid against Banks and others and the warrants under which searches were conducted in Montreal, Toronto and elsewhere by the RCMP.

Mr. Wooliams demanded to know why the arrest warrant was not served on Mr. Banks when the union president was in the capital. He said there was time to do so and "time is

IT'S A LABOR OF LOVE BUT OH HOW THEY WORKED

By MONTE ROBERTS

It's always work to produce a daily newspaper, but there's extra Labor in today's Times.

Exactly 13 Labor leaders lent a hand in bringing out this edition—13 Labor leaders who accepted our invitation to sit in as editors-for-a-day.

To a man—and one woman—the Times staffers pro-

tern found the day's work interesting, intriguing, and worthwhile.

Possible champion in the "intrigued" department was long-time Labor great Percy Rayment, who sat in as wire editor.

This is a chore involving appearing on the job at 6:30 a.m. and peering keen-eyed at reams of copy as it comes roaring off the teletype machines from the world's news agencies and Times staff correspondents.

'CHALLENGE' But it wasn't this split second influx of world and national news which intrigued Percy.

It was, as he put it, "The challenge of writing heads... the ingenuity of using words... why, already I'm thinking in terms of head lines."

"NEW SITE FOR JEWELS FOUND AT 1066 FORT."

(Showing the passion for facts owned by all good newspapermen, Percy checked the Victoria directory, found there was no such address, and therefore re-wrote the head.)

Also unexpectedly faced with 236-2, K-742 and even 360 2 BD, was Bob Milliken, who signed on for the day as movie expert, but was pulled into service as a headwriter when the pre-deadline pressure built up.

"You have to be a utility infielder around here," he

U.S. TROOPS STILL HELD UP

U.K., French Convoys Passed by Russians

Serious Matter —Rusk

WASHINGTON (AP)—State Secretary Rusk today described as "a very serious matter" the Russian blockade of a U.S. convoy on the road to Berlin.

Rusk made the comment to reporters after appearing before the Senate foreign relations committee.

President Kennedy was keeping in close touch with the situation, both by telephone and by direct briefings from McGeorge Bundy, his assistant for national security affairs.

Rusk, leaving the Senate committee briefing, said:

"Unless the situation has changed in the last hour, the other side is attempting unilaterally to change procedures that have long been in use."

"Of course that cannot be permitted. We look upon it as a very serious matter."

Rusk summoned Georgi M. Kornienko, Soviet charge d'affaires in Washington, Monday and demanded the convoy be released. Informants said Kornienko, who has charge of the Soviet embassy in the absence of Ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin, explained he had no word from his government on the incident.

BERLIN (AP)—The Soviet army let British and French military convoys leave West Berlin today on their way toward an American convoy that has been held on the West German border since Monday morning.

The British and French had 110 miles to go. This is the distance between West Berlin and West Germany along the East-German autobahn.

Just as the Americans had done, both the British and French refused to dismount from their jeeps and trucks to be counted or to lower their tail gates so that Soviet officers could look inside.

There were no immediate explanations of why the Russians reacted differently towards the British and French.

Canada Buys British Subs

OTTAWA (CP)—The government has decided to proceed with purchase of three conventional Oberon-class submarines from Britain, Defence Minister Hellyer announced today.

The purchase will run to approximately $33,000,000.

The submarine program was originally announced in April, 1962, by former Conservative defence minister Douglas Harkness. But no production-sharing arrangements could be worked out at that time with Britain.

Mr. Hellyer, appearing before the Commons defence committee, said Britain now has decided to share in development of an army reconnaissance drone by Canadair Limited, Montreal.

He also said Britain will make defence purchases in Canada but he did not specify them.

Mr. Hellyer confirmed that the government will not buy 66 additional CF-104 nuclear bombers as requested by the RCAF.

However, 16 more CF-104 two-seaters have been ordered to check out the operational readiness of crews.

This brings the total CF-104 order to 238 planes, 38 of them for training purposes.

Mr. Hellyer also confirmed that no more Voodoo jet interceptors will be bought for air defence command. The previous government acquired 66 of them for home defence.

BASED AT HALIFAX

The three submarines, to be obtained in the 1965-68 period, will replace three Halifax-based submarines on loan from Britain.

The minister said nuclear warheads or the 28 Bomarc anti-aircraft missiles at North Bay, Ont., will be delivered this month and those for the 28 Bomarcs at La Macaza, Que., in December.

The Ganie nuclear rocket for the Voodoo would not be delivered until the latter half of 1964.

'EAST-WEST THAW ENDANGERED'

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI)—Britain warned today that Russia's blockade of access routes to Berlin threatens to wreck East-West reconciliation arising from the Moscow treaty on a partial nuclear test ban.

British Minister of State Peter Thomas said in the disarmament debate of the General Assembly's main political committee:

"If such incidents continue, we in the West may well be compelled to ask ourselves how real is the spirit of Moscow and how far it goes. Be that as it may, I feel sure that it is the united hope of all members of this committee that any misgivings on this score, which I have felt bound to express, will prove to be unfounded."

TRACKER DOGS, ROADBLOCKS USED

Princess Loses Thousands in Jewels

LONDON (AP)—A brazen burglar broke into Princess Alexandra's palatial suburban home Monday night and escaped with jewels valued at thousands of pounds.

He was surprised in a second-storey dressing room and made a clean getaway.

Scotland Yard responded today by laying on a search rivaling those mounted for major crimes.

Thirty tracker dogs were brought in, roadblocks set up and squads of police assigned to comb the four-acre grounds of Thatched House Lodge in Richmond Park. Fingerprint experts went through the house.

The princess, 26-year-old cousin of the Queen and one of the most popular members of the Royal Family, is not assigned a detective except for public functions. Friends said she had no special guard at her house.

The princess, who is pregnant, and her husband, financier Angus Ogilvy, were both home at the time.

JUMPED FENCE

The thief managed to make his way into Richmond Park, 1,000 acres of fenced royal land with gates that are locked at night. Then he jumped the wooden fence surrounding the princess' home, climbed up 10 feet of old brickwork to a rear window, forced it open and went to work.

He scooped up all the jewelry from the dressing rooms and bedrooms on the second floor. Some of the loot was costume jewelry of small value. Some also was reported to be wedding presents—the princess was married in April.

Princess Alexandra was going through her remaining jewelry this morning to make an exact accounting of what was missing. It was believed to total a substantial amount.

The princess and her husband moved into Thatched House Lodge in June. They leased it from the Duchess of Sutherland and recently have been redecorating. Workmen were among those questioned by the police.

Victoria Firm Ships Chipper to Finland

A Victoria firm, Nicholson Murdie Machines Ltd. has just shipped a 25-ton, 112-inch pulpwood chipper to Helsinki, Finland.

E. C. Brown, manager of the firm, said today it is the second big export order for Nicholson Murdie and he has hopes it will be followed by other foreign orders for similar machinery.

About two years ago an 84-inch chipper was assembled in the Victoria plant for an Australian pulp mill.

The company also supplies chippers for B.C. and eastern Canadian mills.

The chipper, destined for the Kemijarvi Company of Helsinki, is a Hansel-design, drop-feed pulpwood chipper and is valued at $34,000 in U.S. funds.

It will handle logs up to 27 inches in diameter at a rate of 300 feet per minute and is the largest type chipper in common use in this province.

The machine was trucked to Vancouver over the weekend for loading on the Ms. Seattle.

Devonshire Hotel Sale Completed

VANCOUVER (CP)—The 230-room Devonshire Hotel on Vancouver's downtown Georgia Street is being sold, it was announced Monday.

The price involved and names of the new buyers were not announced, but it was speculated that the sale was for about $2,000,000 to a syndicate of Vancouver hotelmen and U.S. interests.

W. Fred Evans, president and manager of the hotel since 1948, said he and his family will complete the sale Dec. 1 to a real estate firm acting for the buyers.

Kitimat Pulp Mill Plans Move Ahead

VANCOUVER (CP)—Fraser W. Bruce, president of the Aluminum Company of Canada, said Monday he is confident a pulp and paper mill is in the cards for Kitimat, B.C.

Whether it will be sooner or later he professed not to know in a speech to the Vancouver Board of Trade.

"Important relations have been established and the interested parties are now considering the project," he said.

"We look forward to their decision, but we understand that—in the case of pulp and paper—economic trends, markets and finances are problems just as difficult to assess and solve as they are in the aluminum industry.

"Disappointments often occur, but we feel confident that in due time our hopes will materialize."

Japanese interests have been reported making a feasibility study for a mill at Kitimat. Reports have indicated Daisowa Paper Company and a West German paper firm are considering a partnership to build a $70,000,000 plant by 1968.

A TALE OF TWO CITIZENS

"It was a depression year, it was a good year, opportunities were scarce, opportunities were everywhere, fortune frowned, fortune smiled, one man was in the depths of despair, one man was riding the crest."

Probably, the explanation is simple.

One man, having given no heed for tomorrow was wallowing in self pity because no opportunities came his way.

The other, with a solid financial background, saw avenues of progress on every hand. This man had wisely purchased sufficient permanent personal life insurance so that he had the financial stability to be offered chances of advancement—and the borrowing power, if need be, to take advantage of them.

The secret of success is often as simple as that.

Today you can make plans for a brighter financial future. May we suggest you talk over your life and health insurance needs with a trained representative of The Excelsior Life Insurance Company, the Company helping Canadians help themselves to peace of mind.

'... Men Drawn Together by One Thing: Their Interest in People'

By REV. DR. HARRY K. JOHNSTON
Vice-President, Religion-Labour Council of Victoria

A few men meet once each month at a supper meeting. They usually begin about 6 p.m. They are all fairly busy folk and so they try to break up about 8 p.m. and from there most of them go to other appointments.

This supper meeting is not just another club... it is not organized as a club. Rather, it is a group of men whose interests are varied as they go about their several duties from day to day. One thing draws them together: they are interested in people; how they live, work and act; what they believe in. They are interested in what is going on in social, economic and industrial life.

The purpose of their meeting can be stated as follows: "To study and seek to define the social implications of man's religious faith in its application to economic and industrial life."

"To emphasize the importance of the religious motivation in every-day work of the world."

"To encourage the formation of local fellowships through which religion, labor, management and other interested groups can interpret their aims and programs to one another and thus promote co-operation on the basis of understanding and good will."

The foregoing is a quotation from The Purpose of the Religion and Labour Council of Canada, with which the Religion-Labour Council of Victoria is affiliated.

The purpose of this council also includes such ventures as the investigation and study of issues as they may arise, and to seek the common good in the proper emphasis on ethical and spiritual values.

The Religion-Labour Council of Victoria is not a large body but it is representative of a wide field. Among those attending these supper meetings are men from various labor organizations in the city. There are clergymen from Catholic and Protestant churches, there are men from business and professional life. Those attending are not "official" representatives of any body of opinion, but they are all concerned with the necessity of co-operation in an area of common interest. They do take seriously the moral and ethical problems that confront all men in economic and industrial life.

They believe that religion has something to say to people whether they are workers or management; or in business or professional life, and so they meet and talk about these things.

Arthur Mayse

This corner has been discriminated against by both management and labor, and if the jack-hammer boys weren't making such a hellish din as they knock chunks out of Douglas Street, I'd be down there picketing with an "Unfair" sign on a stick.

As it is, here I sit with the leg-irons chafing, required to sweat out a column while everyone else has a union guy doubling for him.

It was outrages such as this that stained the workers flag with red, and if organized labor was what it used to be, our guests would join me in my protest.

Not they, though! They're having too much fun being reporters and editors and such.

I'd counted on my friend John Nicol of Retail Food and Drug Clerks union to do my stint, and looked forward to a column in which he would take a round out of my capitalist boss with his big seegar and fur-colored topcoat and all.

But oh no: it seems Mr. Nicol is much too busy being a press photographer, may he shoot all his stuff with the lens cover on.

Well, no use for earth's humble drudges to complain, so even though today the managing editor's blacksnake whip is probably hidden in his bottom drawer with the old racing forms, we'd better tote that load, lift that bale...

Mr. Nicol, although he baffles me by preferring to snap a shutter when he could be writing this column, has been giving a lot of thought to an aspect of labor's internal health that worries him.

He feels the union man is letting far too wide a gap develop between his leaders and himself.

"Your organizer," he says, is finding himself in the position of a general-10 miles in front of the army. This isn't the way it should be, and I think labor ought to haul off for a long, hard look at the situation."

Like the family doctor familiar with his patients' every ache and pain, the organizer who knows the man at the lathe or behind the counter by his first name is in danger of fading from the scene.

Following our medical parallel, he is being replaced by the specialist, the operator skilled in certain departments of the labor relations field, but quite out of touch with the homelier aches and pains of his people.

The specialist is essential, a fact which neither John Nicol nor I would argue.

But the general practitioner is needed still: not every belly-ache demands major surgery, and organized labor is bound to suffer, should it lose its own version of the family doctor.

One result of the shift from GP to specialist is that the union man isn't really very interested in his union as long as his take-home pay is satisfactory. He pays his dues, attends enough meetings to escape a fine, and gives the experts at the top carte blanche to think as well as act for him.

Responsible labor chiefs hate to see this apathy deepening. Practically all of them came up the hard way. They know that our unions in their earlier years stayed afloat only because each member was deeply and personally committed.

Those men maintained solidarity and purpose under prolonged fire.

If the need arose, would card-holders of the new breed grooved into a philosophy of "Let George do it, that's what he's paid for"—have the stamina to meet a challenge?

John Nicol points to another offshoot ill that has plagued organized labor increasingly since the union man began to put distance between himself and his leader.

"Let a climate of indifference become established," he warns bluntly, "and you prepare the way for a Beck or a Banks."

GOLDEN OPPORTUNITY GONE

Greater Victoria water board was relieved of one weird worry regarding its five-mile Japan Gulch tunnel project today.

If it strikes gold or other precious metals while boring out the seven-foot-diameter hole, nobody will be able to bust in to mine the lode.

The board referred the problem to the provincial government and commissioner Ronald Upward today reported an order-in-council has been issued prohibiting anyone from registering a claim or doing any mining for 200 feet on either side of the tunnel route, running from Sooke Lake to Goldstream.

Cost Asked On Covering Bowker Creek

By BILL GAULD
Vancouver Island Representative of the Canadian Labour Congress

City works committee today asked for an up-to-date report and cost estimates on covering portions of Bowker Creek.

Subject arose from a 292-name petition of residents in the Doncaster area who asked that the six-block length of Bowker Creek, between North Dairy and Hillside, be enclosed.

City engineer James Garnett said the city has spent considerable money on flood control measures in the area and carrying out the work petitioned for would cost a further $150,000 to $170,000. He said there were hazards to children and odor problems still existing.

THIN MAN FUMBLES FAT CHANCE

A thin man made an unsuccessful attempt to crack the safe at Gibson's Shopping Centre in Sooke overnight Monday.

RCMP Corporal Lew Dempsey said the burglar must have crawled through a ventilator shaft, 14 inches in diameter, to get into the store.

Once inside he took tools from a store rack and tried to peel the metal covering from the safe. The tough metal hide of the safe foiled the attempt.

The frustrated burglar took $20 in cash from the office, some cigarettes, and left before the break-in was discovered at 7 this morning.

Meeting Called On Lake Dispute

House Fire Follows Death of Husband

An Oak Bay woman who lost her husband in a traffic accident four months ago, lost everything she owned in a fire Monday night.

Said Mrs. Frances Furbank as she surveyed the smouldering ruin of her home at 2421 Mowatt: "We've had such a lot of trouble. Will it never end?"

Mrs. Furbank's husband Clifford died of injuries received in an accident July 3 at Fort and Cook. The couple came to live in Canada from England five years ago.

VISITING DAUGHTER

Mrs. Furbank left her home about 6:30 Monday evening to visit her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Foster, 146 Cadell.

About 11 o'clock she got a telephone call from a neighbor that her house was burning down. By the time she got there the house was gutted.

Mrs. Furbank said house and contents were insured but many of her possessions, brought here from England, were irreplaceable.

Oak Bay Fire Chief William Pearson said the fire likely was started by a smouldering cigarette in an upholstered chair.

The blaze was first spotted by Wallace Haywood, 2413 Mowatt, who saw smoke coming from the house. By the time he arrived on the scene the windows were beginning to pop out from the intense heat.

Public Invited To Air Opinions

Saanich council called Monday evening for a public meeting to air the Prospect Lake pollution problem.

Municipal clerk Gordon Hayward said today that a date has not yet been set, but the meeting will be held within the next two weeks.

Council ordered the meeting after Reeve Stanley Murphy told councillors that council can do nothing about the situation unless residents of the area present a local improvement petition requesting that city water be piped in.

The matter had been referred to council sitting as a board of health by Saanich's health and welfare committee. The committee Oct. 28 received a report from chief inspector D. W. R. Smith saying that the lake water is unfit to drink, and that the lake will be too polluted for recreational use unless action is taken.

Residents around the lake were warned in May by the Greater Victoria board of health that they should boil any lake water used for drinking.

The committee referred the report to council without action or recommendation.

Reeve Murphy told councillers that Saanich "cannot order the water to be piped in" — recommended in Mr. Smith's report as the only solution.

"We can sympathize with the problem," he said, "but if the people want city water, they can present a local improvement petition."

"We simply do not have the power to order water in."

He indicated the council could do nothing further until the residents act, and was queried by Coun. Joseph Casey.

"What else can we do," asked the reeve, "deplete the situation?"

"That's right," said Coun. Casey.

"Then let's all deplore it now and get it over with," said the reeve.

Coun. Leslie Passmore moved that a public meeting be held at which anyone who considered himself affected could voice his views.

UVIC SERVICE STATION

Work Could Stop If Payment Made

An Oak Bay council request to delay service station construction at the university entrance carries no weight with Standard Oil Co., a company spokesman said today.

James Brown, district representative for Standard Oil, said construction continues despite a ratepayer's protest heard by Oak Bay council Monday night.

Council passed along the request made in a brief from University District Ratepayers' Association which protests commercial development in the area. The oil firm is building at Cedar Hill Cross Road and Henderson Road.

Mr. Brown said, "The request is in fact not from council but from the taxpayers. It doesn't mean a thing as far as Oak Bay council is concerned."

"Standard Oil are quite willing to halt construction if compensation for their investment is made—they are not that adamant to have a service station in that area," Mr. Brown said.

About 75 residents jammed the council chamber for two zoning matters.

Most backed presentation of a brief by Dr. J. F. Higgins, who pointed out that rezoning of commercial land in the area was requested as early as August, 1961.

Other residents petitioned against commercialization in a brief last spring.

Land had been zoned commercially the year previous at request of the owner, Hudson's Bay Co.

No further organized protest was made until this fall, when Siegg Bros. Construction began clearing the site for the residential-style service station.

Council agreed Monday to ask the oil firm for a "reasonable delay," pointing out that this was passing along the ratepayers' request.

When Standard Oil bought the land from HBC in May, 1962, it was not aware of animosity, Mr. Brown said.

SIX MONTHS

The firm negotiated for six months with council before a building plan was approved. Standard had been willing to stop construction for six months provided council agreed to renew a building permit at the end of that time.

Without such assurance, the company went ahead with the building.

Reeve George Murdoch said that during negotiations with HBC, the firm insisted on commercial zoning in that area.

Ratepayers' president P. D. Bragg said today he hopes for early re-negotiation of the whole matter.

The association feels Oak Bay and HBC could have re-negotiated before this to return the commercial land to residential use.

Mr. Bragg said despite the 1961 request for rezoning, "only now has council acknowledged that such a request has been made."

An alternative course of action suggested by the association is expropriation of the land by Oak Bay, with compensation to Standard Oil.

Coun. Allan Cox asked: "Can we, in the interest of the whole municipality, afford to expropriate this property which would amount to a cost of two mills to the taxpayer?"

Yarrows' Dispute

Arbitration hearings in the Yarrows Ltd. - Boilermakers' Union dispute will begin Thursday at 10:30 a.m.

The hearings will be held to resolve a work jurisdiction dispute which sparked a wildcat walkout by 262 boilermakers from the shipyard Oct. 10.

TOPICS of the DAY

A concert party, with dancing and refreshments, will form part of the entertainment at a League of Roses meeting Thursday.

The meeting will begin at 8 p.m. in the Woodsworth Hotel, 721 Courtney Street.

Saanich council decided Monday night not to mix garbage and money.

A proposed referendum on weekly garbage collection was set aside after several council members said they thought it might interfere with a municipal hall money referendum planned for the December municipal election.

A hungry thief entered the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Allweis, 1541 Morrison, sometime Monday morning and stole a ham from the fridge.

He then ransacked the house and took away a transistor radio valued at about $40.

The prowler gained entry by breaking glass in a basement door and unlatching it.

Tentative civic voters' list will be posted next week at the temporary City Hall in Bastion Square, city clerk Frank Hunter said Monday.

Anyone uncertain whether they have been included can check the list from Nov. 15 and if desiring to make an appeal can appear before the court of revision at 10 a.m. Nov. 20 in the council chamber.

The corrected list will be posted Nov. 29. Nomination day will be Dec. 5 and balloting will be held Dec. 12.

Following strong public protest against a rezoning bylaw made at Oak Bay council Monday night, Coun. Fred Robinson proposed that council not proceed with the rezoning of the retail area at St. Patrick and Central back to residential use.

An application had been made for construction of a two-storey apartment building and one store on the designated corner.

The Society of Friends has just reported the despatch of another 30 sacks of clothing, bedding and footwear to a British welfare agency.

The sacks went to OXFAM (Oxford Committee for World Relief) for distribution among people throughout the world.

The Society of Friends is now preparing a further consignment.

They have been collecting clothes for about 15 years in Victoria. A shipping company freights the goods free of charge, and shipments are sent as soon as they are big enough. Donations to Friends' meeting house, 1831 Fern Street.

DRIVE CLIMBS SLOWLY TOWARDS 75% LEVEL

The United Appeal fund is climbing slowly towards its 75 per cent mark, standing now at $267,915.

Ten days from now, Appeal organizers will be faced with the necessity to name a definite closing date for the Appeal. It is already five days over the original deadline.

The amount still to be raised to ensure adequate aid to the 24 member welfare agencies is $112,081.

B.C. Trade Unions Have 'Boss' Status

By TOM SMITH
V.I. Representative of Canadian Union of Public Employees

Believe it or not—trade unions are employers.

That's what the Workmen's Compensation Act says, anyway. Because unions employ a certain number of paid officials—secretaries, agents and officers—they must provide coverage for compensation.

Even delegates to conventions who receive remuneration for time lost from their regular jobs must also be covered, according to the provincial legislation.

PENALTIES

If unions fail to provide the necessary coverage they may be penalized in accordance with the act.

The act provides for $90 per month compensation to a widow and three-quarters salary to an employee who is totally disabled.

It could be unfortunate, particularly in the case of small unions, if they were compelled by the act to meet a financial obligation which required an increase in union dues beyond all reasonable proportion. Failure to comply with the act due to unawareness of its requirements is no excuse. However, in fairness to the unions, it is worth mentioning that even Labor Minister Leslie Peterson was unaware of these particular requirements. An official of the Workmen's Compensation Board said union members serving in any capacity could be covered under the compensation act if the unions involved paid them even $1 a year.

Officers said most of the other passengers were injured, several critically.

Seating Boosted at Empire Stadium

VANCOUVER (CP)—Seats at Empire Stadium will be increased to 36,500 from 32,500 for both the Western Football Conference final and the Grey Cup Nov. 30, it was announced today.

The announcement was made as British Columbia Lions' fans lined up outside the club's downtown office for tickets to the finals to be played here.

Wallendas Hurt as Wire Snaps

SARASOTA, Fla. (UPI)—A tight wire on which the "Great Wallendas" were practising their famed circus act snapped today, plunging the troupe to the ground and injuring three members.

The accident occurred while the Wallendas were attempting to construct their famous seven-man pyramid on a tight wire 12 feet above the ground.

The situation arose over a telegram sent Campbell Sunday night by William Jennings, president of New York Rangers. Jennings complained about the refereeing and specifically sought the firing of Voss.

MARTIN LASHES CRITIC

Doctor Called
Irresponsible

Health Minister Eric Martin today accused Dr. R. E. Adams of Victoria of gross irresponsibility.

Diem Kin
Rebuffed
By U.S.

(Times News Services)

SAIGON—Ngo Dinh Can, brother of former president Ngo Dinh Diem and virtual dictator of the central Vietnamese provinces, today asked for asylum at the U.S. consulate at Hue. However, Can was turned over to the South Viet Nam revolutionary authorities.

High sources reported that Can arrived at the U.S. consulate in Hue, 400 miles to the north from Saigon, at about 10:30 p.m. Monday asking for refuge.

U.S. authorities there got in touch with officials of the four-day-old revolutionary government and notified them that Can was at the consulate.

Today, Can was flown in a U.S. military aircraft and turned over to government authorities at Saigon Airport.

U.S. officials were understood to have received assurance.

The medical director of St. Joseph's Hospital is also guilty of public mischief, Mr. Martin said.

He rejected Dr. Adams' charge that too many babies are dying in B.C. hospitals because of government "harassment" as completely invalid.

He also rejected the B.C. Hospital Association's plea for a continuing province-wide study of newborn babies.

Mr. Martin said the health department itself checks every hospital case and investigates any unusual circumstances.

Dr. Adams refused to name the hospital at which he said the baby death rate was particularly high and at which babies had died needlessly through lack of adequate staff.

'CAST A CLOUD'
"The refusal of Dr. Adams to substantiate the charges he made is an act of gross irresponsibility," Mr. Martin said.

"His statements have damaged the province's reputation and have cast a cloud over every hospital in the province."

"Imagine the anguish that must exist in the hearts of those parents who lost newborn infants during the past few years."

"To make such charges and then decline to substantiate them is public mischief."

Dr. Adams did not reply to

IT'S A LABOR OF LOVE
BUT OH, HOW THEY WORKED

By MONTE ROBERTS

It's always work to produce a daily newspaper, but there's extra labor in today's Times.

Exactly 13 Labor leaders lent a hand in bringing out this edition—13 Labor leaders who accepted our invitation to sit in as editors-for-a-day.

To a man—and one woman—the Times staffers pro-

tem found the day's work interesting, intriguing, and worthwhile.

Possible champion in the "intrigued" department was long-time Labor great Percy Raymond, who sat in as wire editor.

This is a chore involving appearing on the job at 6:30 a.m. and peering keen-eyed at reams of copy as it comes roaring off the teletype ma-

'CHALLENGE'

But it wasn't this split second influx of world and national news which intrigued Percy.

It was, as he put it, "The challenge of writing heads . . . the ingenuity of using words . . . why, already I'm thinking in terms of headlines."

'NEW SITE FOR JEWELS FOUND AT 1066 FORT'

(Showing the passion for facts owned by all good newspapermen, Percy checked the Victoria directory, found there was no such address, and therefore re-wrote the head.)

Also unexpectedly faced with 236-2, K-742 and even 360-2-BD, was Bob Milliken, who signed on for the day as movie expert, but was pulled into service as a headwriter when the pre-deadline pressure built up.

"You have to be a utility infielder around here," he

Serious Matter — Rusk

WASHINGTON (AP)—State Secretary Rusk today described as "a very serious matter" the Russian blockade of a U.S. convoy on the road to Berlin.

Rusk made the comment to reporters after appearing before the Senate foreign relations committee.

President Kennedy was keeping in close touch with the situation, both by telephone and by direct briefings from McGeorge Bundy, his assistant for national security affairs.

Rusk, leaving the Senate committee briefing, said:

"Unless the situation has changed in the last hour, the other side is attempting unilaterally to change procedures that have long been in use."

"Of course that cannot be permitted. We look upon it as a very serious matter."

Rusk summoned Georgi M. Kornienko, Soviet charge d'affaires in Washington, Monday and demanded the convoy be released. Informants said Kornienko, who has charge of the Soviet embassy in the absence of Ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin, explained he had no word from his government on the incident.

BERLIN (AP)—The Soviet army let British and French military convoys leave West Berlin today on their way toward an American convoy that has been held on the West German border since Monday morning.

'EAST-WEST THAW ENDANGERED'

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI)—Britain warned today that Russia's blockade of access routes to Berlin threatens to wreck East-West reconciliation arising from the Moscow treaty on a partial nuclear test ban.

British Minister of State Peter Thomas said in the disarmament debate of the General Assembly's main political committee:

"If such incidents continue, we in the West may well be compelled to ask ourselves how real is the spirit of Moscow and how far it goes. Be that as it may, I feel sure that it is the united hope of all members of this committee that any misgivings on this score, which I have felt bound to express, will prove to be unfounded."

The British and French had 110 miles to go. This is the distance between West Berlin and West Germany along the East German autobahn.

Just as the Americans had done, both the British and French refused to dismount from their jeeps and trucks to be counted or to lower their tail gates so that Soviet officers could look inside.

There were no immediate explanations of why the Russians reacted differently towards the British and French.

A U.S. army spokesman said the morale of the troops "could not be higher" despite the heavy rain and biting frost.

It took the French more than half an hour to clear the Soviet checkpoint at nearby Babelsberg.

The British were at first refused permission to pass. A Soviet officer went away for new instructions. When he returned, he allowed the British to go on. They had been held for 50 minutes.

They didn't trade unions, but for this edition they traded jobs.

A wise man realizes early in life that his biggest asset is his friends.

A laborer with higher education is worthy of his higher.

Charged With Conspiracy

MONTREAL (CP)—Harold Banks, president of the Seafarers' International Union of Canada (Ind.), was arraigned today on a charge of conspiracy to commit assault in the 1957 beating of Capt. Henry Francis Walsh.

Judge Emile Trotter, fixed preliminary hearing for Nov. 12 and set bail at $2,000 cash or $4,000 property.

Defence Counsel Joseph Nuss told the court bail would be posted immediately.

Mr. Nuss said Mr. Banks gave himself up voluntarily to the RCMP earlier today, upon learning that a warrant existed for his arrest and had no thought of avoiding appearance in court.

The whole proceedings took about 20 minutes.

Banks, wearing a hat and light grey trench coat, strode into the criminal courts building behind Mr. Nuss shortly before 3 p.m. and walked straight to the arraignment court.

He sat in the front row of the spectators' benches, beside an RCMP officer. Judge Trotter entered the courtroom five minutes later.

KNEW OF CHARGE

In making the request for bail, Mr. Nuss said the court "must take into account that there has been widespread information in the public media to the effect that a warrant existed, yet the accused did nothing that would lead the court to believe he was making any attempt to evade due process."

Mr. Nuss said Mr. Banks has been a resident of Montreal for the last 15 years, is employed continuously in Montreal and is the owner of an immovable property.

"I should also point out the accused was convicted of an offence in the jurisdiction of California in 1929 but received a pardon from the governor of California in 1950. This offence may be considered, therefore, as not having happened."

Mr. Nuss said it should also be recalled that the present charge "dates back several years."

The Crown, noting that Banks "submitted voluntarily" to the police, did not oppose the request for bail.

Meanwhile, Justice Minister Chevrier said in the Commons today Banks was arrested of a warrant the RCMP applied for on Oct. 23.

Mr. Chevrier said his recollection is that the warrants for arrest were not issued until after Mr. Banks was in Ottawa Oct. 24 to see the trustees appointed by the government the previous day to operate five maritime unions.

Asked to explain the delay, he said the first concern was to get the striking SIU men back at work. The next concern was to keep them at work and the ships moving with grain.

Mr. Chevrier said that rightly or wrongly he felt he should not attempt to interfere with the duties of the newly-established trio administering the federal trusteeship of five marine unions including the SIU.

"I did not believe it would be good timing."

DENIES CHARGE

Mr. Chevrier denied an allegation of Eldon Wooliams (PC—Bow River) that the justice minister misled Parliament in various statements about the charges laid against Banks and others and the warrants under which searches were conducted in Montreal, Toronto and elsewhere by the RCMP.

Mr. Wooliams demanded to know why the arrest warrant was not served on Mr. Banks when the union president was in the capital. He said there was time to do so and "time is

Canada Buys
British Subs

OTTAWA (CP)—The government has decided to proceed with purchase of three conventional Oberon-class submarines from Britain, Defence Minister Hellyer announced today.

The purchase will run to approximately $33,000,000.

The submarine program was originally announced in April, 1962, by former Conservative defence minister Douglas Harkness. But no production-sharing arrangements could be worked out at that time with Britain.

Mr. Hellyer, appearing before the Commons defence committee, said Britain now has decided to share in development of an army reconnaissance drone by Canadair Limited, Montreal.

He also said Britain will make defence purchases in Canada but he did not specify them.

Mr. Hellyer confirmed that the government will not buy 66 additional CF-104 nuclear bombers as requested by the RCAF.

However, 16 more CF-104 two-seaters have been ordered to check out the operational readiness of crews.

This brings the total CF-104 order to 238 planes, 38 of them for training purposes.

Mr. Hellyer also confirmed that no more Voodoo jet interceptors will be bought for air defence command. The previous government acquired 66 of them for home defence.

The three submarines, to be obtained in the 1965-68 period, will replace three Halifax-based submarines on loan from Britain.

The minister said nuclear warheads for the 28 Bomarc anti-aircraft missiles at North Bay, Ont., will be delivered this month and those for the 28 Bomarc at La Macaza, Que., in December.

The Genie nuclear rocket for the Voodoo would not be delivered until the latter half of 1964.

The decision not to acquire more Voodoos from the U.S. will mean abandonment of one of the six Voodoo bases, Mr. Hellyer indicated.

SCHOOL DISTRICT NO. 63 (GOVICHAN)

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS
Bench School marked "Tender for Bench School Activity Room" is invited by the Board of School Trustees for the construction of an activity room to the Bench Elementary School. The completion date of this project is to be January 31st, 1964.

Working drawings, specifications, instructions to bidders and form of tender may be obtained by general contractors only from the School office, James Street, Duncan, on payment of a deposit of Twenty-Five Dollars ($25.00) for each set of working drawings and specifications which will be returned on receipt of said documents in good condition.

A certified cheque in the amount of 10 per cent of the contract price, or a bid bond in the amount of 10 per cent of the contract price, must accompany all tenders. A surety bond to bind the tenderer in the amount of 10 per cent of the contract price must be provided within ten days of a contract being accepted. This bond shall be approved by and acceptable to the owner and made out to School District No. 63 (Govichan) as owner.

If the tenderer defaults in executing the contract within six (6) days following notification, in writing, of the award of the contract then said certified cheque will become the property of the Board of School Trustees.

Tenders must be in the hands of the undersigned by 3:30 p.m., Thursday, November 14th, 1963. The Board of School Trustees will not necessarily accept and the Board of School Trustees reserves the right to reject any or all tenders without explanation. No tender will be considered having any qualifying clauses attached.

G. F. DYSON, Secretary-Treasurer, School District No. 63, (Govichan), Box 190, Duncan, B.C.

Princess Loses Fortune in Gems

LONDON (AP) — A brazen burglar broke into Princess Alexandra's palatial suburban home Monday night and escaped with jewels valued at thousands of pounds.

He was surprised in a second-storey dressing room and made a clean getaway.

Scotland Yard responded to day by laying on a search rivaling those mounted for major crimes.

Thirty tracker dogs were brought in, roadblocks set up and squads of police assigned to comb the four-acre grounds of Thatched House Lodge in Richmond Park. Fingerprint experts went through the house.

The princess, 26-year-old cousin of the Queen and one of the most popular members of the Royal Family, is not assigned a detective except for public functions. Friends said she had no special guard at her house.

The princess, who is pregnant, and her husband, financier Angus Ogilvy, were both home at the time.

The thief managed to make his way into Richmond Park, 1,000-acres-of-fenced royal land with gates that are locked at night. Then he jumped the wooden fence surrounding the princess' home, climbed up 10 feet of old brickwork to a rear window, forced it open and went to work.

He scooped up all the jewelry from the dressing rooms and bedrooms on the second floor. Some of the loot was costume jewelry of small value. Some also was reported to be wedding presents—the princess was married in April.
